Standing Orders

THE ULTIMATE TEST OF YOUR BOOKSELLER

Fulfilling standing orders has always been a complex challenge for booksellers. For almost two decades, Blackwell North America has met this challenge and successfully provided libraries with comprehensive standing order services:

- Extensive Coverage allows consolidation of orders with a single source
- Our unique interface with B.H. Blackwell offers coverage of U.K. and European titles
- Timely supply of books with consolidated invoices ensures prompt availability to library users
- Management reports provide detailed financial, bibliographic and publication status information
- Our standing order database, the largest in the industry, serves as a bibliographic reference tool for collection management and title selection

If your current vendor is not meeting the standards you have set for standing order service, consider Blackwell's. Our reputation is built on timeliness, flexibility and service.

A powerful, new force in the business of books

Baker & Taylor: Taking Search and Order Technology into the Future.

B&T Link 2.0 is the most comprehensive, most accurate and least expensive CD-ROM title database available.

"I can't imagine that anyone would use anything else after trying B&T Link."

Cathy Garrison
Books & Bytes
Naperville, Illinois

Over 1.4 million titles ... all on one disc. The Title Source, B&T Link's database, offers access to a universe of book, audio and video titles—in-print, out-of-print and forthcoming—with over 133,000 changes monthly, all the information you receive is accurate and up-to-date.

75,000 new subject headings.

From African Literature to Zen Poetry, the new subject headings enable you to find titles on even the most specific subjects.

"We look up everything in B&T Link because it has the right price, the right information, and tells us if something is out-of-print or has to be ordered directly from the publisher."

Diane Reedy
Houston Public Library
Houston, Texas

Publisher File: contains the addresses and phone numbers of over 47,000 U.S., U.K. and Canadian publishers and distributors.

You'll never feel like you're talking to this when you call Ballen.

When speaking with some booksellers, you might as well be talking to the wall.

What distinguishes Ballen from other booksellers is all our employees have dedicated themselves to customer service. And no matter what size your library is, you'll always receive the utmost in personal attention.

We also offer many value-added services, like BallenNet, our exclusive online system. It'll let you identify, claim, or order from our Firm Order, Approval Program, or Continuation/Standing Order Services.

What's more, our "electronic mailbox" will enable you to send claims and obtain important information instantly. You'll also have your own shelf reserved in our warehouse to guard against inventory and shipment mix-ups. And should you ever need to reach a Ballen officer, you can do so just by picking up the phone. Plus, as a Ballen customer, you'll have your very own customer service representative.

With this type of customer service, it's no wonder we have less than a 1% return rate (lowest in the industry) for our Firm Order and Continuation/Standing Order Services.

For more information, call Ballen at (800) 645-5237.
Because when you talk, Ballen listens.

Faxon Tackles Market Changes with Quality Program

Faxon is changing its U.S. organization to adjust to new realities in the marketplace. As you are keenly aware, the serials subscription business is undergoing significant change. We are all affected, not only by languishing economies which limit the ability of many libraries to maintain their collections, but by publisher business terms and by the introduction of new technologies.

Structuring for Quality

Faxon's first commitment as a company is to serve our clients better. We are introducing significant enhancements in our computerized serials management business systems. Faxon Manager, a major upgrade for our SC-10 clients, is the first of these improvements. Additional systems improvements will be introduced over the course of the coming year.

We now have restructured our internal organization in concert with these improved systems.

- Client services have been consolidated into a single division. Clients' daily contact with service representatives will be unchanged, in virtually every case.
- All of Faxon's U.S. marketing and sales efforts have been integrated into one coordinated team. Sales representatives, in most cases, will continue to work with their current clients.

These changes include the reduction of thirty-five positions throughout the company. The decisions are designed to maintain our client focus and improve the quality of our services, while at the same time reducing internal costs.

New Services for New Conditions

Faxon Research Services remains a high priority for Faxon. We are releasing Faxon Finder, our journal article search database, and Faxon Xpress, our rapid document delivery service. We are experiencing strongly positive responses from our clients to these new services.

As always, Faxon continues to study changes in the market and in technology in order to understand the implications of those changes for the library community. We will continue to adapt our services and organization to meet the evolving needs of our clients.

Faxon has built a strong business by working closely with our clients. We value your comments and suggestions on the directions we should take in order to serve you in the future. Please share your thoughts with us.

"How wonderful to be able to read a poem by Keats, Wordsworth, Milton—and to print it out and read it, again and again. What a way to get the computer generation hooked on poetry"

—Joan Gartland, AMERICAN LIBRARIES, 2/92

"An impressive work...Based on printed works of established value in libraries, the CD-ROM version offers significant additional benefits...This is easily one of the most efficient, no-nonsense implementations of a text-only database that I have seen...[It] is solid, straightforward and...a delightful product."

INDUSTRIAL CHEMICAL THESAURUS

Editors Michael and Irene Ash
Synapse Information Resources,
Inc., Endicott, New York

This new two-volume reference contains 40,000 of the most up-to-date international tradenames, of which more than 6,000 generic chemicals are known and marketed worldwide. It allows the user to locate tradename equivalents of generic chemicals as well as providing extensive information about the generic chemicals. It also includes a separate listing of tradename products containing the chemical entry as a major factor. Volume I contains alphabetical entries of industrial chemicals including synonyms, CAS number, definition, classification, formula, properties, precautions, toxicity data and applications. Volume II lists all tradename products alphabetically followed by their manufacturer and the chemical entry or entries under which the tradename is grouped in the first volume. Industrial Chemical Thesaurus contains indispensable information for anyone in the surfactant, paint, agriculture, cosmetic, food, plastics, elastomer and the specialty chemical industries.

HANDBOOK OF ENZYME INHIBITORS

Second Revised and Enlarged Edition
Helmward Zollner
University of Graz, Austria

The rapid increase in data has made it necessary to bring this updated version of the highly successful first edition. The contents of the book have trebled: it now lists more than 8,000 different inhibitors for about 2,000 enzymes. Over 15,000 enzyme-inhibitor interactions are tabulated. This reference is divided into two separate volumes for easy use. The organization is such that the user can search either for an inhibitor of a particular enzyme, or for all enzymes which are inhibited by a particular compound. In addition, this reference work lists K_i -values of effective inhibitor concentrations, the type of inhibition, the source of the enzyme, the substrate for which these parameters were determined, and references. This truly unique reference work is an invaluable tool not just for enzymologists, but for all working with enzymes in the life sciences, medicinal chemistry, and pharmacology.

INDUCTIVELY COUPLED PLASMAS IN ANALYTICAL ATOMIC SPECTROMETRY

2nd Edition
Editors: Akbar Montaser, Department of Chemistry, George Washington University, Washington, DC
D.W. Golightly, Ross Laboratories, Columbus, OH

This book offers the broadest source of information on analytical ICP spectrometry available in a coherent, single volume. Following the successful first edition, which is now a familiar landmark to the many analytical chemists that remain active in ICP spectrometry, this newest version improves upon excellence. It is significantly revised and expanded to give much broader coverage of fundamental parameters, mathematical models of ICPs, applications and fundamentals of ICP-MS and includes five entirely new chapters.

CONTENTS: Introduction/ Assessment of the Potentials and Limitations of Plasma Sources Compared to ICP Discharges in Analytical Spectrometry/ UNIT I: Atomic Emission Spectrometry with the Inductively Coupled Plasma/ UNIT II: Complementary ICP Techniques/ UNIT III: Focus on Sample Introduction, Plasma Generation, and Mathematical Modelling/ Appendix: Table of Prominent Spectral Lines from an Argon Inductively Coupled Plasma.

MASS SPECTRAL AND GC DATA OF DRUGS, POISONS, PESTICIDES, POLLUTANTS AND THEIR METABOLITES

Part I, II, III
Second, Revised and Enlarged Edition

Karl Pfleger, Hans Maurer and Armin Weber,
Universitt des Saarlandes, West Germany

Over three times the size of the first edition, this greatly enlarged and updated edition contains gas chromatographic data and the mass spectra of 4,350 toxic compounds and their metabolites. It also assembles the molecular masses, chemical formulas, occurrence and applications of potentially poisonous substances. A new feature of this revised edition is the inclusion of pesticides and pollutants. This easy to use reference work offers a fast and reliable routine method for identifying the sources of most poisonings, and is essential for ALL clinical and forensic toxicologists, pharmacological and toxicological laboratories of all kinds, as well as to environmental chemists, occupational toxicologists and food analysts.

CONTENTS: Part I: Introduction/ Experimental Section/ Correlation Between Structure and Fragmentation/ Formation of Artifacts/ Table of Atomic Masses/ Abbreviations/ User's Guide/ Computer Library Search/ References/ Tables/ CAS Indexes. Sometimes the right partner can make all the difference.

Most subscription agencies offer the basics – consolidation of orders, prepayment, claiming. And some agencies promise automation, like online ordering and searchable title files. But only one agency delivers all that, plus something special...

Introducing the Readmore Partnership...the unique team approach that makes all the difference between standard service and peak performance.

With Readmore Academic, you've got a partner in serials management. Your Readmore Account Executive personally assists with all your day-to-day serials activities. The Academic Specialist is your liaison to Readmore's top management and publishers worldwide. And Readmore's technical team, working behind the scenes, uses state-of-the-art technology to bring you innovative services.

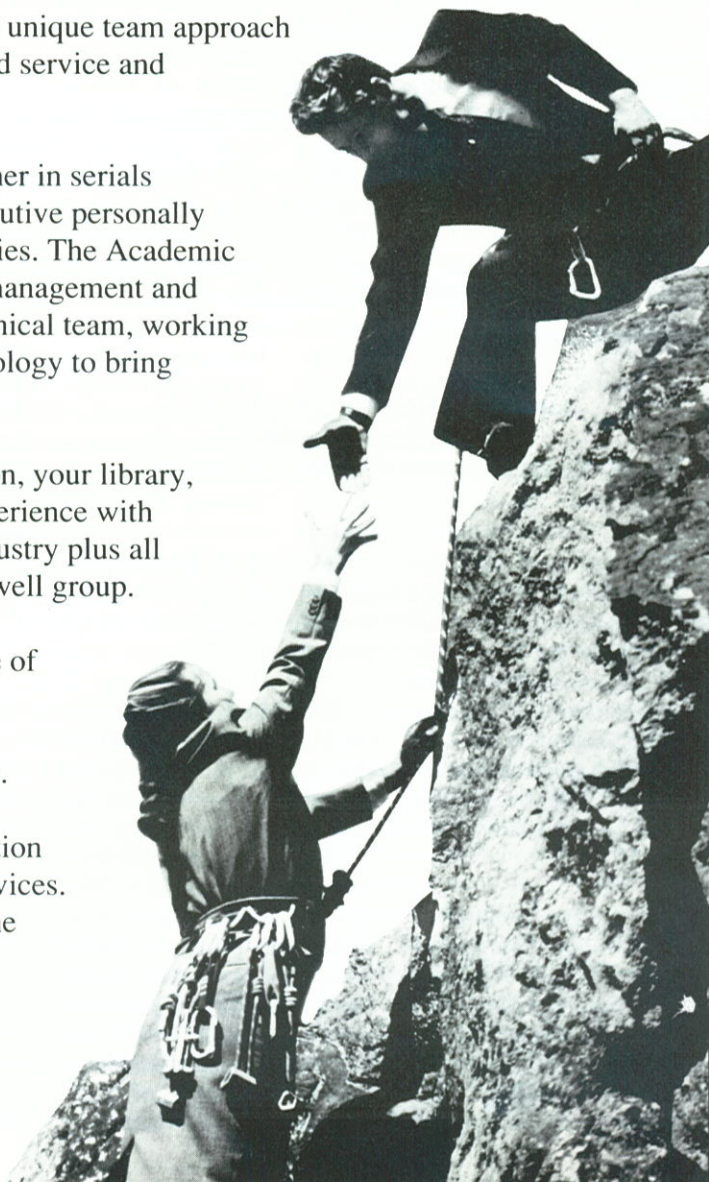

So don't go it alone. You know your collection, your library, your patrons and policies. We've got the experience with serials, automation, the global publishing industry plus all the resources of the international B.H. Blackwell group.

Together, we can build a customized package of services, systems and reports to meet your specific needs...keep you informed...and solve problems before they become problems.

Call 1 800-645-6595 today for more information about Readmore Academic subscription services. And see how the right partner can make all the difference for your library.
