Table of Contents
TABLE OF CONTENTS

ISSUES, NEWS, AND GOINGS ON

1  Rumors
6  Deadlines
6  From Your Editor
7  Letters to the Editor

FEATURES

ALA Annual Meeting Issue

1  From Cancellations to Collaboration. Resource-sharing and collaboration among libraries is the silver lining in the serials crisis. Susan Zappan advocates cooperation and collaboration with other libraries to meet user needs.

18 FullText Journal Subscriptions: An Evolutionary Process by Judy Luther. 1997 is the year when there is suddenly a multitude of options for electronic journal literature from primary and secondary publishers, subscription agents, and aggregators. Given the many companies who announced new products at ALA Midwinter, this article attempts to provide an overview of the offerings prior to the summer conference in San Francisco, and some ideas to consider as libraries examine their options.

26 Here’s Looking At — ADONIS Electronic Journal Subscriptions (EJS) service by Paul Ashton.

29 The Book Becomes: From Collector to Author by Jack Walsdorf. This is the story of two books and the twelve years that went into producing them. Along the way you will hear of birth, death, and death.

90 Back Talk — by Tony Ferguson. Internet Smut: Is There a Problem?

INTERVIEWS

36 Tim Collins — VP, Division General Manager, EBSCO Publishing — by Judy Luther.

38 John Regazzi — President and CEO — Engineering Information Village — by Judy Luther.

PROFILES ENCOMPASSED

A look at some of our colleagues — Edited by Barbara Dean (Arlington County Public Library)
24 Judy Luther, Consultant, Ardmore, PA.
58 Sandra Whisler, U. of California Press.

REVIEWS

40 From the Reference Desk — Tom Gilson has been hard at work reviewing new research sources that deal with statistics and pure facts as well as dictionaries and subject encyclopedias. A few of the more interesting include both brand new releases and updates and revised editions of past works.

44 Book Reviews — Ellen Duranceau reviews The Kennedy Women.

LEGAL ISSUES

Edited by Anne F. Jennings (Sinkler & Boyd) and Jack Montgomery (U. of Missouri, Columbia)

49 Cases of Note — by Anne Jennings — Horton hears a ...? This case is about OJ Simpson & Dr. Seuss.

<http://www.against-the-grain.com>
52 Legally Speaking — Copyright was a hot topic during 1996 and Virginia Seiter fills us in on some recent issues at ALA Midwinter.

PUBLISHING

54 Publisher Bestsellers — University of Illinois Press.
56 International Dateline — Gita Gunatilake tells us about some Oral History Collections in New Zealand.
58 Publishers' Profile — Routledge, Inc.
82 Librarians Looking at Publishers: Librarians' Reactions to Publisher Marketing Strategies — by Karen Schmidt.
83 Papa Lyman Remembers — Retirements at University Presses.

BOOKSELLING AND VENDING

59 And They Were There — Reports of Meetings — The Charleston Conference 1996 and the Faxon Institute are the subjects of this month's meeting reports.
64 Bet You Missed It — What do Emily Whaley, Peter Drucker, and the Higher Education Funding Council for England have in common? They were all in articles selected by Sarah Tusa and her news sleuths...
69 On The Street — Are You Still Keeping Paper Titles Even If You Have Electronic Access?
70 Biz of Acq — It's Not Easy Being Green: Disposal of Unwanted Legal Materials by Bill Benemann.
72 Inside Pandora's Box: Issues in Management — A new column on collection development and acquisitions management... Fighting Wars on the Acquisitions Front: The Librarian as Battle General by Glenda Alvin.

TECHNOLOGY AND STANDARDS

Edited by Sandra K. Paul (SKP Associates) and Albert Simmonds (R.R. Bowker)
75 Drinking From the Firehose: From Sex to Milk and Cookies: Pitfalls of Searching the World Wide Web by Eleanor J. Cook.
76 Innovations Affecting Us — DVD: The CD-ROM Phoenix. CD-ROM is dead. Long live CD-ROM! When CD-ROM first appeared in 1985, librarians received it enthusiastically because of its voluminous storage capacity, but it wasn't long before preferences for graphics and text images, rather than ASCII text, caused databases to grow exponentially. Norm Desmarais tells us more.
78 Chaos — Standard Identifiers for Electronic Information by Albert Simmonds. Development of standard identifiers for electronic publications must be informed by the needs of the publishers who will have the responsibility for assigning them. This development must also take into account the processes of a wide range of other entities in the information world whose needs will shape how the world of information will operate in the twenty-first century.
80 Media Minder — Philip Hallinan is fascinated with the National Film Registry, films which have been recognized for their cultural, historical, or aesthetic value and which, by virtue of their selection, hold the status of "national treasure."
84 Nouvelle Cuisine — Changes in Registration of Internet Domain Names — Nancy K. Dennis tells us about the reorganization proposal from the International Ad Hoc Committee, a consortium of Internet governing groups, to reorganize the registration process necessary to acquire domain names on the Internet.
85 Doc Aquis — Elsie Pritchard (Morehead State U.) and Winn Thierl (U. of Kentucky Medical Center) want to know Have You Heard?

ETC.

14 Call for Ideas/Papers/Speakers, etc. — The 1997 Charleston Conference — Issues in Book and Serial Acquisition: Learning from Our Mistakes — Nov. 6-8, 1997.
47 Charleston Conference Registration.
87 The Search for a Short Stack — by Margaret Robb. Liz Chapman and Margaret Robb traveled together from Oxford (England) to Washington D.C. to attend the ALA Midwinter meeting — as well as invitations to some of the best receptions and dinners.

[http://www.against-the-grain.com]