Cold Spring Harbor Laboratory Press will be launching a new monthly online publication, Cold Spring Harbor Perspectives in Biology (CSH Perspectives), in mid-2009. CSH Perspectives will provide the life science community with authoritative reviews of progress in emerging areas of molecular, cell, and developmental biology, genetics, evolutionary biology, neuroscience, cancer biology, and molecular pathology. The contributions will be written by leading researchers in each field and commissioned by a board of eminent academic editors, all of whom are acknowledged to be key figures in their particular field. CSH Perspectives will be unmatched in its depth of coverage and represent an essential source to which readers can go for informed surveys and critical discussion of advances in the molecular life sciences.

Scope: Molecular Biology, Cell Biology, Developmental Biology.

Editor: Richard Sever

Managing Water for All: An OECD Perspective on Pricing and Financing

Water is a key prerequisite for human and economic development, and for maintaining ecosystems. However, billions of people lack access to water and sanitation services, mainly due to poor governance and inadequate investment and maintenance. This report, which emphasises the economic and financial aspects of water resources management and water service provision, the need for an integrated approach (including governance considerations) to address these complex policy challenges, and the importance of establishing a firm evidence base to support policy development and implementation, summarises the results of OECD work in this area.

Is Informal Normal? Towards More and Better Jobs in Developing Countries

Shoe shine workers in Cairo, street vendors in Calcutta, badly-paid public officials driving their taxis at night in the streets of Moscow: this is informal employment - jobs or activities in the production and marketing of legal goods and services that are not regulated or protected by the state. Over half the non-agricultural jobs in developing and emerging economies come into this category.

The informal sector deprives states of revenues and workers of social protection. It also, however, frequently constitutes the most dynamic part of the economy and creates massive employment. Informal employment is ubiquitous and growing. Is Informal Normal? provides evidence for policy makers on how to deal with this issue of crucial importance for developing and developed countries alike.

"This volume is an important contribution to the current policy debates on the informal economy. It recommends providing support to the working poor in the informal economy, making formal structures more efficient and flexible and creating more formal jobs."

Journal of Renewable and Sustainable Energy

Edited by:
P. Craig Taylor, Colorado School of Mines, Golden, CO
John A. Turner, National Renewable Energy Laboratory, Golden, CO

Now Available Online!

Journal of Renewable and Sustainable Energy (jrse.aip.org) is an interdisciplinary, online, peer-reviewed journal covering all areas of these closely related disciplines that apply to physical science and engineering. JRSE is responsive to the many new developments expected in this field, and editors draw from researchers worldwide in a diverse range of fields.

Topics covered include:

- Bioenergy – bioreactions and bioengineering
- Geothermal energy – geysers, heat pumps, and novel devices
- Marine and hydroelectric energy – waves, tides, and dams
- Nuclear energy – fission and fusion
- Solar energy – photovoltaics and solar thermal converters
- Wind energy – turbines and electrical systems and controls
- Energy conversion – solid oxide and proton exchange membrane fuel cells and novel devices
- Energy efficient buildings – photovoltaics, solar thermal converters, and passive solar approaches
- Energy storage – hydrogen and batteries
- Power distribution – conventional and superconducting transmission, fluctuating loads, and controls
- Renewable energy resource assessment
- Transportation – hydrogen, batteries, fuel cells, bioenergy, and vehicles

JRSE publishes six issues per year, and each article appears online in final citable form as soon as it is available. Be among the first to contribute your papers to this exciting new journal – go to jrse.peerx-press.org.

Jobbers serving libraries with any book in print.
Preface

Continuations and standing orders represent a frustrating and time-consuming area of book acquisitions. Efficient management of continuations requires a staff knowledgeable in all aspects of standing order procedures, with prompt and accurate service being essential.

Midwest Library Service has been providing continuation and standing order programs to libraries for over three decades with the same commitment to high quality as our firm order service: prompt delivery, accurate invoicing, immediate reporting, convenient communications, and personal Library Service Representatives. Our reputation for excellence is well established and we invite you to place your continuations list with us.

Scope

Our Continuation & Standing Order Service encompasses most series and continuations from U.S. publishers. Our services do not include supplying magazines, journals, or loose-leaf updating services.

Procedure

Our Continuation & Standing Order Service incorporates both automated systems and personal surveillance. Instead of relying on the filing and ordering systems of the publishers, we place orders for specific volumes as books are due to be published. If the next item in a series is not received when scheduled, we initiate a new order for the same item. This procedure helps avoid potentially missed volumes and eliminates any dependence upon the publishers’ fulfillment systems. If in-house information is not available on future volumes to be published, we call the publisher for future projections and publication schedules. This information is then used to update our new title records.

Advantages

1. Because of our method of ordering specific volumes, we are in regular communication with the publishers.
2. Our status reports are prompt and accurate and should eliminate library claims.
3. Specific claims from an individual library resulting in an updated status report will generate new status reports to all libraries ordering the same series.
4. We do not drop ship.

Quality service depends on good communications between the library and the jobber. Your personal Library Service Representative and our convenient communications provide easy access to us regarding your continuation orders. We invite you to try our service by sending us your next list of standing order titles.
