December 2003

From Your (spreadsheet-weary) Editor

Katina Strauch
Against the Grain, kstrauch@comcast.net

Follow this and additional works at: https://docs.lib.purdue.edu/atg

Part of the Library and Information Science Commons

Recommended Citation
Strauch, Katina (2003) "From Your (spreadsheet-weary) Editor," Against the Grain: Vol. 15: Iss. 6, Article 2.
DOI: https://doi.org/10.7771/2380-176X.4193
From Your (spreadsheet-weary) Editor:

Spreadsheets. I hate them. When they are good, they are very, very good, but when they are bad, they are horrid. I have spent the six weeks since the Charleston Conference ended looking at spreadsheets. How much money will we have? What does such and such an item cost? Can we afford it? Must we cancel it? You all know the drill. Anyway, Against the Grain has been blessed relief. It's better to dream about words than numbers!

As the holiday season approaches (the library is closed for two weeks!), you will all have plenty of time to read this truly wonderful issue of ATG from cover-to-cover. The features this month are on the topic of Electronic Use Statistics: A Panacea or Just A Problem? and are guest edited by the incredible John McDonald from CalTech. He has put together nine articles from Bob Molyneux, Steve Black & Amy Sisson, Phil Davis, Steve Hiller, Jennifer Weintraub, Martha Borghuis, John Sack, Denise Davis and Peter Shepherd. We have an interview with Robert Wedgeworth by Victoria Beatty, as well as Dan Halloran's interview, and one from Jack Montgomery who interviewed Bob Schatz. Michelle Flinchbaugh has provided a profile from Anje Mays who also has a "Biz of Acaq" column on page 80. Our wonderful reviewers, Tom Gillson, Debbie Vaughn, and Ellen Finnie Duranceau have provided us with lots of book and reference title reviews. And don't miss out on this issue's book trade gossip by Barry Fast in Talk of the Trade (p.83), or Tom Loughran's "Book Pricing Update" on p.86. Plus there is more on OCLC and the Library Hotel in "Legally Speaking" by Bryan Carson and John Cox tells us how not to confuse price with value in an "ATG Special Report" on p.92.

Meanwhile, a spreadsheet is calling me. Happy New Year! Yr. Ed.

Rumors from page 4!

...continued over the years, beginning in the late 1980's, were very important to him and something that he always looked forward to with much anticipation. He doesn't have definite plans for retirement but says he will keep busy hiking in the summer and fall, skiing in the winter, organizing his jazz CD collection, probably more traveling (one of his sons lives in Southern California) and doing some volunteer work. Whew! Plus since Phil says that he definitely wants to bring his wife, Ginny, to Charleston, I hope we will be catching a glimpse of him at one of the upcoming Charleston Conferences!

Moving right along, Taylor & Francis Group plc has agreed to acquire, subject to the receipt of regulatory clearances, the business and publishing assets of the Dekker group of companies. ("Dekker"), a US based Scientific, Technical and Medical ("STM") publisher from the family owned, Marcel Dekker, Inc. The consideration will be made up of $122.0 million ($72.2 million) in cash, a loan note of $1.6 million (£0.9 million) and a further contingent cash payment at closing estimated to be in the region of $15.0 million (£9.9 million). The cash consideration will be paid from Group cash resources and banking facilities. Founded in 1963, Dekker is a leading US based STM publisher of journals, reference textbooks and encyclopedias in the specialist areas of science, engineering and medicine. Dekker publishes 78 journals and around 200 new book titles per year and has a backlist of over 3,000 book titles. Headquartered in New York City, the business employs some 170 staff. Dekker's sales for the year ended 31 December 2002 were $42.0 million (£24.9 million), producing an operating profit before exceptional items and shareholders' costs of $5.1 million (£3.0 million) and profit before tax of $3.2 million (£1.9 million).

Primarily a journals publisher, in 2002 sales totaled $24.9 million (£14.7 million) from journals and $17.1 million (£10.1 million) from books. Net assets at 31 December 2002 were $0.8 million (£0.5 million). The nature of Dekker's US dollar revenues and the US dollar purchase consideration will further reduce Group's cash flow based exchange exposure to the US dollar. Taylor & Francis STM journal title portfolio will reach over 1,000 for the 138.6 million dollar purchase. It is rumored that Dekker's finance department will move to Florida where CRC is located. According to the Bookseller ("T & F does US double with Dekker," 11/21/2003 Issue 5104, p.5. http://www.tandf.co.uk/news.html. See also Business Source Premier.

Taylor & Francis has also acquired the business and assets of Swets & Zeitlinger B.V. and A.A. Balkema Uitgevers B.V. (together, "Swets & Zeitlinger Publishers" or "SZP"), the Dutch based Scientific Technical and Medical ("STM") journal and book publishing business being divested by information services provider Koninklijke Swets & Zeitlinger Holding N.V. The cash consideration is €16.75 million (£11.5 million) will be paid from the Group's existing cash resources. Founded in 1916 with the publication of the journal title English Studies, SZP publishes English language journals and books in the specialist areas of engineering, ophthalmology and life sciences as well as in the social sciences. SZP publishes 41 journal titles and 100 new book titles per year and has a backlist of around 2,000 book titles. Based in Lisse, Hol...