HISTORY FOOD HEAVEN
by Bruce Strauch  (The Citadel)

If you’re in Charleston, SC for the justly famed Charleston Conference, try to get a reservation (start 3 months in advance) at restaurant Husk. Chef Sean Brock has created a true sensation. With the aid of two former Citadel professors – Richard Porcher (biology) and David Shields (English Lit Colonial period) they have re-created lost Southern fare — a culinary reclamation project if you will. Think Ossabaw pig — a native pig raised on native nuts, cured with local sea salt. Think heirloom veg and grains not tasted since the 1800s laced with local oddities like cattails and poke-weed.

Shields unearthed the antique recipes and Porcher scoured the countryside for the lost plants. He found sea bean, sheep sorrel, wild mustard and yucca flower in Johns Island; purslane, pine tips, lamb’s quarter and Queen Anne’s lace on Edisto.

Shields unearthed the antique recipes and Porcher scoured the countryside for the lost plants. He found sea bean, sheep sorrel, wild mustard and yucca flower in Johns Island; purslane, pine tips, lamb’s quarter and Queen Anne’s lace on Edisto. And they planted it all. Wild ramps, garlic scapes, black radishes, fiddlehead ferns. American chestnuts, Ethiopian blue malting barley, China black rice and Sea Island cream peas. Rattlesnake beans, Carolina Gold rice, Carolina white gourds. Rare varieties of oats, wheat and cowpeas.

are specious, the latter because the access is not free to the libraries footing the bill, and the former because clearly the Research Works Act is a jab and not a handshake to the NIH. The Association of American Publishers (AAP) statement on the bill (see http://www.publishers.org/press/56/) picks up on the duplicative access thread by claiming, “Journal articles are widely available in major academic centers, public libraries, universities, interlibrary loan programs, and online databases. Many academic, professional, and business organizations provide staffs and members with access to such content.” The AAP frames the bill as a stance against Big Government, “preventing regulatory interference with private-sector research publishers.” This speaks to my final point below.

They’re filming a new version of Great Expectations, with of course Helena Bonham Carter as Miss Havisham. Wick- edness, corruption, squalor in the belly of the Victorian beast. And we use the term “Dickensean” to describe just that.

It’s the Dickens bicentenary and it’s being celebrated in 50 countries. Exhibitions, amateur theatricals, commemora- tions, and in London, of course guided walks. You can go to Dickens World, a theme park in Chatham, SE England and ride Disney type rides through the novels.
