Chicana Making: The Archives of the Comisión Femenil Mexicana Nacional

Project Overview

With the funding from the Library Scholars Grant, I researched the archival collections of one of the first Chicana feminist organizations, the Comisión Femenil Mexicana Nacional (CFMN), housed at the UC Santa Barbara’s California Ethnic and Minority Archives Special Collections. To gain a broader and more accurate understanding of the scope and internal workings of the organization, I also visited the archival collection of the CFMN's well-known chapter organization, Comisión Femenil de Los Angeles, housed at UCLA’s Chicano Studies Research Center library. Through studying the internal and programmatic documents of the organization, I investigated the way that Chicana identity helped build and shape an organization and its practices; at the same time, the way that being an organization shaped the emergence of Chicana identity.
HISTORY

The Comisión Femenil Mexicana Nacional, Inc. was established at the National Issues Conference held in Sacramento in October of 1970. The purpose of the Comisión Femenil Mexicana Nacional, Inc., as indicated in the original resolution and bylaws, is to upgrade the status of women, to deal with issues which pertain to women and the family, and to provide leadership training for women.

To date, Comisión Femenil Mexicana Nacional, Inc. has established a Chicana Service Action Center in East Los Angeles, a Department of Labor funded project, which provides employment counseling, placement and referral services for women. The Chicana Service Action Center is now in its second year of operation.

This year, we received funding for two child care centers to be located in Los Angeles. In addition, the Los Angeles Chapter has as its own special project, Las Hermanas Counseling Center, located in Maravilla.

Augmenting the issues of employment, counseling and child care, is Comisión Femenil Mexicana Nacional's active legislative committee. We believe that involvement in the legislative process is the most effective means of upgrading the status of women in California.

The Comisión Femenil Mexicana Nacional, Inc. is incorporated as a non-profit organization with the State of California.

The Comisión Femenil Mexicana Nacional, Inc. is actively involved in the issues of concern to the Chicana. It encourages the development of a strong and responsible membership. And it is sincerely interested in meeting the needs of the Chicana and her family.

OBJECTIVES

1. To direct its efforts to develop Chicana awareness.

2. To direct its efforts to organizing and training women to assume leadership positions within the Chicano movement and in community life.

3. To disseminate news and information regarding the work and achievements of the Chicana.

4. To concern itself in promoting programs which specifically lend themselves to help, assist and promote solutions to women's problems and problems confronting the Mexican family.

5. To direct the development of leadership to assist Chicanas in dealings with local, state, and federal agencies and institutions that they may better deal with them.

6. To spell out issues to support and explore relationships to other women's organizations.

7. To direct its efforts to generally promote Chicana welfare and, in this manner, the welfare of the Mexican-American community.

8. To build the Comisión Femenil Mexicana Nacional throughout the State of California and the Southwest.

Bienvenidas Hermanas y Colegas de Comisión Femenil Mexicana Nacional!

Welcome to CFWN's bi-annual leadership training seminar, "Corporate Consciousness". Today's gathering of Chicanas of Comisión Femenil once again reflects the great diversity of our organization. We represent La Mujer in every aspect of her development: professionally, economically, and politically. This diversity within Comisión is in a continuous state of flux, which is why we need to stop periodically and take inventory of ourselves, and of our skills as a corporate body - as a viable Chicana organization bound by rules and procedures, but not bound by goals and aspirations.

Learning and reviewing these rules and procedures - these sophisticated survival processes - can serve as tools for each of us: 1) for taking care of Comisión Nacional business; 2) for taking care of Comisión Chapter business; and, 3) for dealing within our own communities with volunteer agencies, school boards, city councils, and political organizations.

At whatever level we are, we all need to sharpen our individual and collective skills; we need to share our knowledge and experiences with each other. To guide us in this process today, we have five dynamic workshop leaders.

We hope today's seminar will serve as a valuable learning process for us all; for those who have been members of Comisión Femenil for many years, and for those who are new to Comisión.

We wish to acknowledge and express our appreciation to the Kellogg Foundation and the United Way Volunteer Leadership Development Program for the materials we have adapted for this seminar.

Thank you for coming and making our day successful. ¡Unidas Venceremos!

Sincerely,

[Signature]

NEW BUSINESS

Development of Committees:

1. The name of each committee was read by the Chairwoman and a brief description of each was given.

   The committees are as follows: (a) Education (b) Publicity &
   Public Relations (c) Finance & Fiscal Affairs (d) Membership
   (e) Legislative (f) Program (g) Intergroup Relations
   (h) Hospitality

Evelyn Benson proposed that the Program Committee should be chaired by the Vice-Chairwoman and that another committee should be titled Political Action.
An explanation of the Intergroup Relations Committee was given as "shall establish and maintain a liaison between all other committees and shall coordinate activities of these committees." A question regarding the function of the Education Committee was brought up. It was generally felt that the Education Committee could be anything the members wanted it to be.
For example, child care, research, chicana awareness seminars or issues.
Chairwoman Molina felt that the goals of each committee should be defined and brought back to the group. It was felt by many women that the most important education is of ourselves. Again Francisca said that she had never felt so inadequate as when she had attended the child care hearings. She felt we must provide leadership and education to all chicanas. It was generally felt that education should be in two parts: (a) the educational system and (b) education of La Comision. The Chairwoman expressed hopes that this is how La Comision can function, with getting of information, talking and taking action. Some may be business and some issues but hope all of us can be a part of it. She also felt that ad hoc committees should be established for each activity that comes up. After some action is taken, these ad hoc committees can then be dissolved.
