TAILORED.

Why Blackwell is the Approval Plan leader.

Academic and research libraries worldwide choose Blackwell for new titles because we offer services tailored precisely to their needs.

Service. You benefit because we are large enough to offer a full range of services, yet flexible enough to tailor those services to your needs.

Comprehensive coverage. Our buyers are in daily contact with the publishers whose books are so essential to your collection. These include not only university, trade and Sci-Tech-Med presses, but also the scholarly and small presses which you need for timely, full coverage. Our unique B. H. Blackwell interface offers 100% coverage of UK new titles.

Tailored profiling. Create your individualized library profile to select books of interest, based on our extensive subject thesaurus, our new LC classification thesaurus, or a combination of both. The choices are yours.

Computer access. Innovative new services such as our New Titles Online (NTO) and New Titles Announcement Service on diskette (PC-NTAS) provide current, accurate book status information on your PC.

Tailored invoicing and reports. We arrange invoices to your specifications, and provide a complete package of management reports, including a projection of books and forms you will receive in the coming year and their estimated costs for budgeting.

Extensive, interactive database. Our approval, firm order and standing order systems interact to prevent duplication.

Unique backrun capabilities. What have you missed? We can show you the effect of expanding your plan, or tape match against your catalog.

You'll never feel like you're talking to this when you call Ballen.

When speaking with some booksellers, you might as well be talking to the wall. What distinguishes Ballen from other booksellers is all our employees have dedicated themselves to customer service. And no matter what size your library is, you'll always receive the utmost in personal attention.

We also offer many value-added services, like BallenNet, our exclusive online system. It'll let you identify, claim, or order from our Firm Order, Approval Program, or Continuation/Standing Order Services.

What's more, our "electronic mailbox" will enable you to send claims and obtain important information instantly. You'll also have your own shelf reserved in our warehouse to guard against inventory and shipment mix-ups. And should you ever need to reach a Ballen officer, you can do so just by picking up the phone. Plus, as a Ballen customer, you'll have your very own customer service representative.

With this type of customer service, it's no wonder we have less than a 1% return rate (lowest in the industry) for our Firm Order and Continuation/Standing Order Services.

For more information, call Ballen at (800) 645-5237.

Because when you talk, Ballen listens.

"Some librarians decide to consolidate their business with one serials vendor because they appreciate the benefits of dealing with a single representative. We're consolidating as many titles as we can through Faxon for an even more simple reason.

I've never asked Faxon for anything I haven't gotten.

Librarians today are expected to back up budget requests with cost/benefit analyses and price projections. Faxon has far more sophisticated data gathering and analysis capabilities than we could ever have internally. The reliability of their financial data lends credibility to our budget requests and their customized reports and Kent-specific forecasts are invaluable in the planning process. We're looking at every title that we order direct and are consolidating as many titles as we can through Faxon. They are serious about partnership, both with libraries and with publishers."

THE ACQUISITIONS LIBRARIAN

Editor: Bill Katz
Professor, School of Information Science and Policy,
Nelson A. Rockefeller College of Public Affairs, State University of New York at Albany

"The Acquisitions Librarian is an important, high quality journal that should be regularly reviewed by anyone involved at any level in any aspect of acquisitions work—and to all whom such work impacts. ... Regardless of the topic of the issues, there is always a broad diversity of approaches, from the largely theoretical to the highly practical. Most include substantial documentation. Collectively, the journal represents a continuing education in a critical area of library operation. It is must reading for some and desirable reading for all in the profession."
Robert C. Miller, Director of Libraries, University of Notre Dame, Indiana

"The thematic approach to a functional aspect of librarianship that Bill Katz has mastered in The Reference Librarian bids fair to serve acquisitions librarians and managers equally well with The Acquisitions Librarian. Having in each issue a substantial number of articles written by skilled practitioners that deal with both the practical and theoretical aspects of a particular topic, such as the acquisitions budget or automated acquisitions, makes it easy to get up-to-date on what is happening in the field. The first two topics, and those already outlined for the next ten issues, are the ones that now have our attention and require careful thought. The contents of the first two issues are useful, generally well-written, and—for the most part—on target."
Norman D. Stevens, PhD, MLS, Director of University Libraries, University of Connecticut, Storrs

The Acquisitions Librarian offers librarians and information professionals a unique service—each issue is devoted to a single, broad, but well-defined and practical issue or topic of immediate concern to everyone working in library/information center acquisitions and collection development.

The theme issue approach provides a continuing source of up-to-the-minute, definitive guides to the critical issues of the day that librarians and information specialists face in their primary historical role—that of collectors and purchasers of knowledge and information in any format. Thus a primary purpose of this new journal is to help acquisitions librarians define and extend their roles, responsibilities, and professional status in libraries and information centers and services of all types.

COMPREHENSIVE ORGANIC SYNTHESIS provides a thorough and critical account of the whole of organic synthesis in a clear and systematic way, covering the formation of carbon-carbon bonds, the introduction of heteroatoms, and heteroatom interconversions.

A nine volume set that is written and edited by eminent scientists, COMPREHENSIVE ORGANIC SYNTHESIS is the essential reference work both for the experienced organic chemist who seeks information to solve particular problems in synthesis, as well as for the chemist whose practices occasionally involve organic synthesis.

Large format pages contain more information than any other book on the subject and include liberal amounts of computer-drawn structural formulae, tables and figures. COMPREHENSIVE ORGANIC SYNTHESIS is an excellent investment for any library.
