From the Editors

Our typical process for having the journal published includes delivering the fall/winter issue to the printer in June or July; the spring/summer issue arrives at the printers later, usually September. We then mail the fall/winter issue to arrive before NCTE while the spring/summer issue arrives before CCCC.

This issue of the journal went to press last August so we could enjoy our sabbaticals during the 1988-89 academic year and work on other projects. We are especially appreciative of the authors and reviewers of volume 9 who worked at accelerated speeds to accomplish this. Summer of 1989 will see us back on our regular schedule, getting the fall/winter issue ready for press.
