pixels & partnerships
BETWEEN THE GREAT AND THE ROAD
Round the inside of the Government House grounds Called
MRS MACQUARIE'S WALK
So named by the Governor on account of her walk. Originally Planned it Measuring 3 Miles and 377 Yards
Was finally Completed on the 13th Day of June 1816
ACCESSIBLE LIFELONG LEARNING PROJECT

http://www.all.mq.edu.au
under a TROPICAL SUN

Lachlan Macquarie & the 73rd Regiment in Sri Lanka 1796 - 1821
Returning home from INDIA in 1807, Lachlan Macquarie sailed from Bombay through the PERSIAN GULF to IRAQ. After reaching Baghdad he and his travelling companions travelled overland through IRAN and RUSSIA, and finally sailed home to ENGLAND via DENMARK and SWEDEN.

Macquarie kept a diary of his 6,400-mile, six-month expedition. Read his account and discover more about his epic journey...
September

Septr. 1.
Sunday. — It rained all this day incessantly prodigiously heavy, and has rained every day less or more since my arrival at Bombay on the 11th. of last month.

Septr. 2.
Mondan. — Accounts were received this day from Calcutta that Marquis Cornwallis had set out from thence on a progress to the Upper Provinces, and eventually to assume the personal command of the British Grand Army in the Field.

Septr. 15.
Sunday. — By this day’s Post we heard that Marquis Wellesley, the late Governor General, had embarked at Calcutta on board the Howe Man of War for England on the 31st. of last month. His Lordship having been recalled at the express solicitation of the Court of Directors to His Majesty’s Ministers and Board of Control.

Original held in the Mitchell Library, Sydney.
ML Ref: A770 pp. 257-258. [Microfilm Film CY200 Frames 4370-4371].
February 22, 1812

My dear Sir,

Resuming your recent letter, I was not aware of your intention at the time of writing it. I may be entertained with the assurance that you will be able to visit me on a short notice. I should be delighted to have your society in contemplation.

I have been expected in London, and it is becoming with me to intend to return to England, proceed to Scotland, and there improve my health. It is now necessary for me to remain in London, and accordingly I am writing to you. In consequence, I am very much therefore, and at any time in London, and your letter of February 22, and last March in London. You will have occasion for my exercise. I am, therefore, under the necessity of writing to you. I am, therefore, under the necessity of writing to you.
Towards A New Age of Partnership
in Dutch East India Company Archives and Research Reciprocity
Accuracy
Reliability
Viability
Continuity
Digital Surrogacy
Digital Repatriation
pixels & partnerships