FEATURES

ACRL Issue

1 Money Talks: But Can It Listen? How We Found Out What Our Faculty Really Read by Robin Lent, Louise Buckley, and David Lane. Anyone who has to prepare a budget for Library materials knows that feeling of wondering if this is going to be the year when it isn't going to work.

22 Balancing Information Needs with Serials Value and Costs by Linda A. Brown. There may not be a single "right" way to set priorities for serials access and ownership. What's important is that priorities are set and articulated.

29 JSTOR — A Non-Profit Working to Redefine Access to the Scholarly Journals. Ron Chepesiuk takes a look.

31 And Katina Strauch has a Conversation with Kevin Guthrie, Executive Director, JSTOR.

32 Op Ed — Opinions and Editorials — 3 Takes on the Future of the Book — by Julia Gelfand — Several publications were issued in recent months that assessed and predicted what is happening with the book, the monograph, the scholarly item libraries acquire and retain anticipating what kind of readership will be attracted to it and hope that it will sustain generations of readers to come. This is a subject near and dear to our hearts.

86 Back Talk — Tony Ferguson talks about Consortia Mania and some of the issues that emerged at the Consortium of Consortia meeting in St. Louis in February where representatives of the largest library consortia in the United States, contracting for digital forms of information, and the publishers and vendors of such products came together for three days to exchange information.
