

Extension Series No. 66

Engineering Extension Department

PROCEEDINGS OF THE THIRTY-FOURTH ANNUAL ROAD SCHOOL

held at

PURDUE UNIVERSITY

February 2-5, 1948

Compiled and Edited by

BEN H. PETTY

Professor of Highway Engineering

PURDUE UNIVERSITY
LAFAYETTE, INDIANA

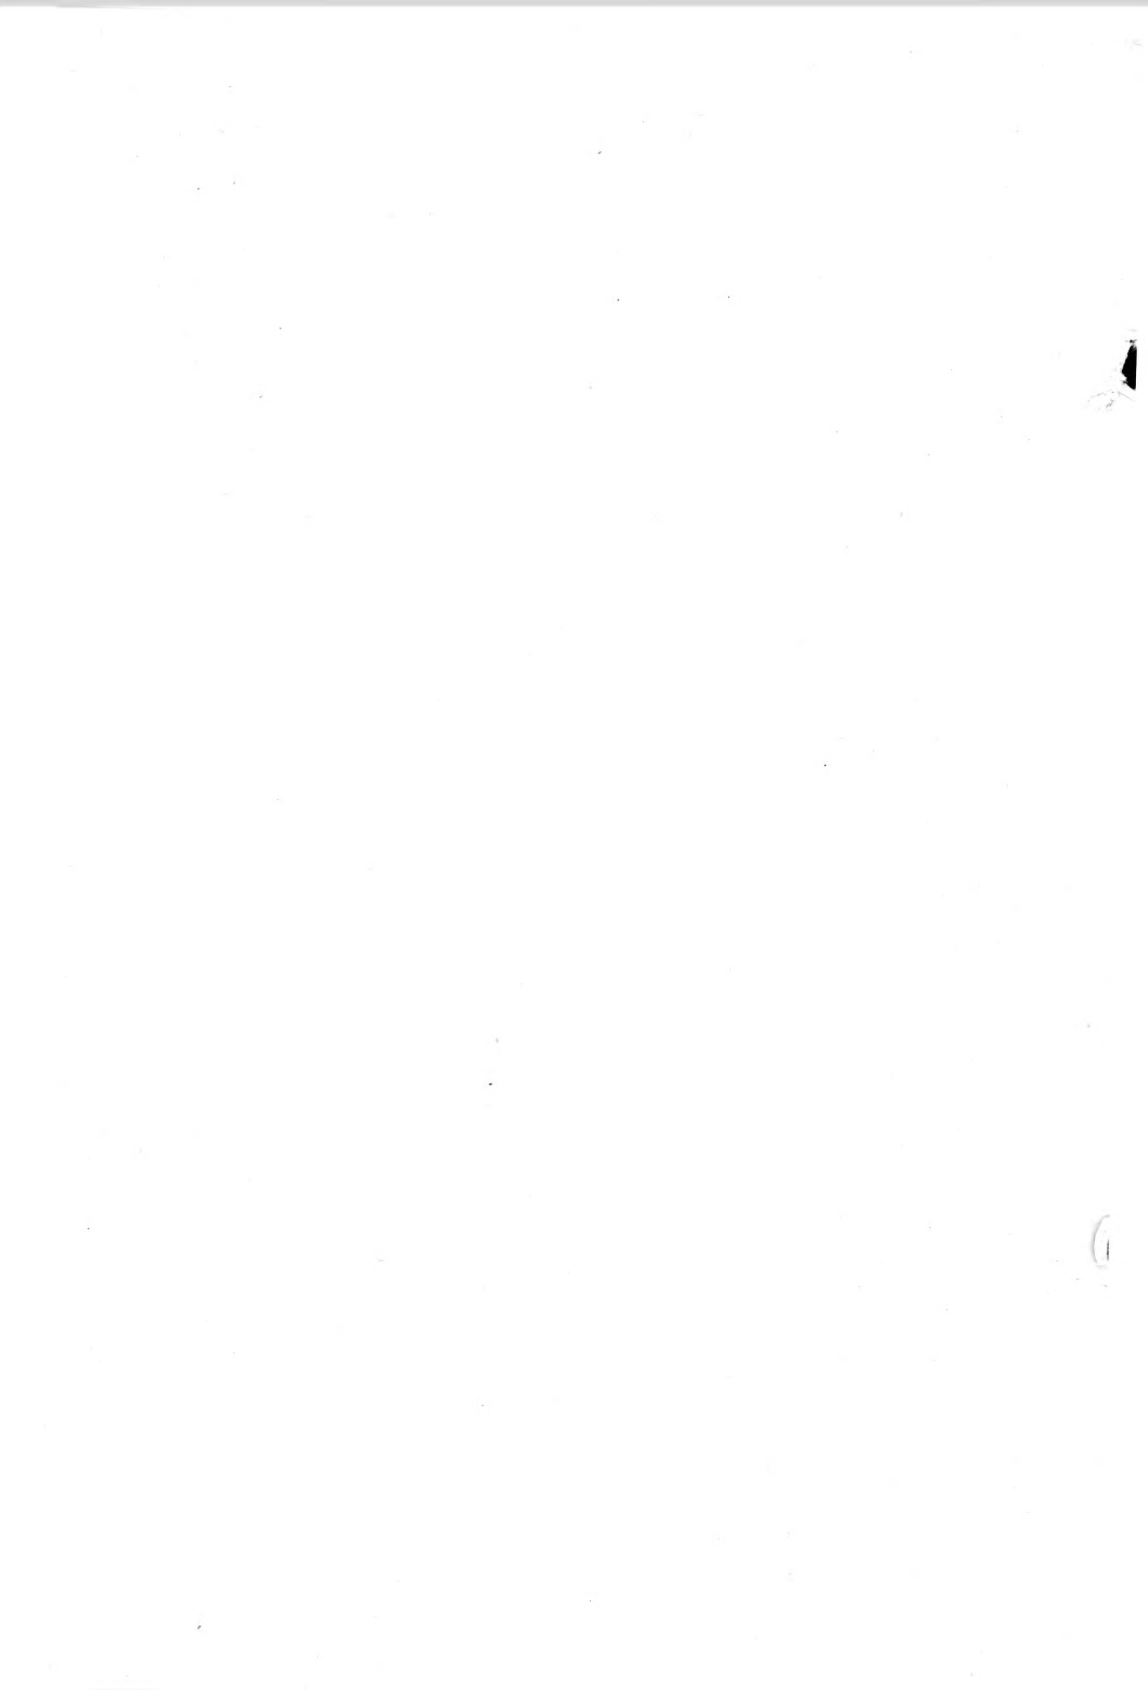

Table of Contents

	Page
PREFACE	5
PAPERS—
Transportation in Congested Cities, by John W. Wheeler, Executive Assistant, Burlington Lines, Chicago, Illinois.....	10
Development of the Chicago-Detroit Expressway, by Samuel C. Hadden, Consulting Highway Engineer, Automobile Club of Michigan and Chicago Motor Club.....	17
Secondary Roads Are Important Too, by Arthur G. Siegle, Public Roads Administration, Washington, D. C.....	30
Highway Maintenance Can Be Improved, by Rex M. Whitton, Engineer of Maintenance, Missouri State Highway Department.....	36
Should Highway Construction Be Accelerated Now?, by Burt L. Knowles, Associated General Contractors of America, Washington, D. C.	51
Relationships Between Highway Departments and Public Utilities, by Dallas D. Dupre, Jr., Chief Landscape Architect, Ohio Department of Highways	58
Activities of the Landscape Department of the State Highway Commission of Indiana, by George Brown, Landscape Supervisor, S.H.C.I.	63
Advancements in the Development of Drainage Maps From Aerial Photographs, by Merle Parvis, Research Engineer, Joint Highway Research Project, Purdue University, and Senior Research Technician, Tests, State Highway Commission of Indiana.....	66
Effect of Air Entrainment on Durability Characteristics of Concrete Aggregates (synopsis), by Sterling L. Bugg, Graduate Assistant, JHRP, Purdue University	104
Traffic Patterns at a Narrow Bridge (synopsis), by Warren S. Quimby, Graduate Assistant, JHRP, Purdue University.....	106
Pavement Pumping Correlated with Traffic Loads (synopsis), by K. B. Woods, Associate Director, F. H. Green, Research Engineer, H. S. Sweet, Research Engineer, JHRP, Purdue University.....	108
Lateral Positions of Vehicles on Rural Pavements, by R. A. Overmyer, Graduate Student, JHRP, Purdue University.....	110
The Port of New York Authority's Activities in Regional Highway Development, by Edward G. Wetzels, Highway Analyst, Port of New York Authority, New York City.....	118

	Page
The Engineering Approach to Traffic Safety, by Donald S. Berry, Director, Traffic and Transportation Division, National Safety Council, Chicago, Illinois	132
One-Way Street Movement Versus Two-Way Street Movement, by J. T. White, Traffic Engineer, and H. J. Hoose, Assistant Traffic Engineer, Ft. Wayne, Indiana.....	141
Methods of Relieving Traffic Congestion, by Edward G. Wetzel, Highway Analyst, The Port of New York Authority.....	146
Drainage Financing, by Henry Chopson, Field Examiner, State Board of Accounts, Indianapolis, Indiana.....	148
Removal of High Shoulders and Opening of Side-Ditches, by Everett Lanham, Decatur County Surveyor and Highway Supervisor, Greensburg, Indiana	154
Experience with Plant-Mix Bituminous Materials, by Ronald Horton, Jefferson County Highway Supervisor, Madison, Indiana.....	156
You Cannot Do Effective Road Work Without Equipment, by S. R. Laughlin, Kosciusko County Road Supervisor, Warsaw, Indiana.....	158
RECENT ENGINEERING EXTENSION PUBLICATIONS.....	162