Entrepreneurship in Libraries — Guest Editor, Rosann Bazirjian

Entrepreneurship in Libraries.......... 1 by Rosann Bazirjian — This is papers from the ground-breaking conference held in partnership between the University of North Carolina at Greensboro and Wake Forest University inspired the Oxymoron........... 18 by Steven J. Bell — Knowing who is an entrepreneur and what makes that person entrepreneur is a nebulous thing.

Hoops and Horses: Innovative

Approaches to Oral History in a Digital Environment...................... 22

by Doug Boyd — The Louie B. Nunn Center for Oral History's survival depended, in large part, on innovation and entrepreneurship.

Money, Money, Money................. 26

by Adam Corson-Finnerty — So you have been hired as the first full-time in-house "entrepreneur" for your library system. Your job is to discover and recommend "income-producing"

ideas for the library to consider undertaking.

Where do you start?

Library Integration through

Collaboration: Partnering in the Course Development Process......... 32

by Anita Norton — This has been determined by many librarians that collaboration with other areas of the academy is the key to continued usage and evolution of the library. At Excelsior College Virtual Library (ECVL) one of the paths is through course integration.

Goiing Green in the Library: It’s Not

Just for Contractors................. 34

by Michael J. Crumpton — At the recent conference,

Innovation, Innovation, Celebration:
an Entrepreneurial Conference for Librarians, the subject was "Green" and "Libraries" and the panel was a group of librarians who really care about sustainability.

Preserving the Vitality of Learning

Commons Spaces Through Dynamic

Programming.............................. 38

The Learning Commons After Dark Series

by Jennifer Calvo — How will libraries find new ways to further the vision of the Commons, and prevent it from turning into just another computer lab?

What’s in a Name?...................... 44

by Steven Shapiro — Database names could be potentially revealing or, oftentimes, confusing.

Back Talk .................................. 86

Words, Memories, and Violence by Tony

Ferguson — Tony muses here about whether words might not contribute to memories of perceived past wrongs, which might in turn lead to violence. Deep!

Why Do Reference Librarians Purchase

Print or Online Reference Sources?.... 46

by Carol A. Singer — Carol surveyed the head of reference from each OhioLINK library that might have a general reference desk in order to discover whether print ready reference collections, a subset of the reference collection, were disappearing from college and university libraries.

Website Accessibility of Public Senior

Institutions in South Carolina......... 48

by Mary W. Anyomi — This study represents the beginning of Web accessibility problem research focusing on educational institutions in the state of South Carolina.
