The University of Minnesota Press is our featured press for this issue, thanks to the information supplied by Alison Aten of their Marketing Department. Established in 1925, the University of Minnesota Press published over seventy books last year on topics ranging from literary and cultural theory, Native American studies, feminist studies, gay and lesbian studies to Upper Midwest studies. One lone journal title rounds out their production schedule: Wicazo'Sa Review.

University of Minnesota Press Best Kept Secrets

Two 1997 "best kept secret" titles that the University of Minnesota Press hopes will make a future bestseller list are: Francois Dosse's The History of Structuralism (2 volumes, ISBN 081662240x $85.00) and a biography on naturalist Sigurd Olson entitled A Wilderness Within: the Life of Sigurd F. Olson (ISBN 0816628424 $24.95). With a good review in The New York Times Book Review this last book is destined for stardom! 🐾
