From Your (chocolate loving) Editor:

The PTBs (powers that be) say that chocolate is good for you. Dark chocolate. Of course I love milk chocolate. But milk chocolate must be better for you than, say, fried chicken or French fries. While eating chocolate, a group of us have been working on Against the Grain. This issue is guest edited by the amazing Xan Arch who has collected articles from Robert Johnson, Jason Price, Peter Spitzform, Michael Levine-Clark, Rick Anderson and Sandy Thatcher, Emily McElroy and Susan Hinken, and Rebecca Seger and Lenny Allen. We are lucky enough with this issue to have interviews with Phoebe Ayers, and Deborah Kahn. Tony Ferguson is still giving us words of wisdom in Back Talk. Meanwhile Michael Pelikan takes on "mobile," Bob Nardini talks about competition, Jesse Holden discovers apps, Donna Jacobs discovers cheese and In- dependent People, Bryan Carson straightens us out on Righthaven, William Rieders looks beyond eTextbooks, Bob Holley mourns the death of the journal, and Scott Smith considers much ado about PDA. Lolly Gasaway has been asked about film snippets and yearbooks, while Steven Douglas and Michelle Flinchbaugh address issues in establishing digital repositories. And, of course this is just the tip of the iceberg! Happy Reading!

Plus, I have to tell you, that a lot of what we didn't have room to print is in the online ATG, located at www.against-the-grain.com/.

Guess I will take a break now and have some chocolate ice cream. And, for those of you who may happen by, I have a cache of all kinds of chocolates in my office. Meantime, have a great summer!

Much Love, Yr. Ed. 🐼

the International Association of Scientific, Technical & Medical Publishers (STM). In it, STM sets out five guiding principles it believes should be applied in any consideration of document delivery use and services. STM publishers welcome constructive discussion on these principles, and seek participation in wider debates on document delivery.

I guess that it is true after all that all good things come to an end. After 12 years of working with Libraries Unlimited, Ron Maas will be leaving the company due to a reorganization. Ron says he has mixed feelings. He has enjoyed his time working with us as wonderful partners, and he hopes we will cross paths somewhere farther down the road. In the meantime, if you have questions about your work with Libraries Unlimited, be sure to check in with Barbara Ittner <bittner@abc-clio.com> who has been at LU longer than Ron (she started with the company when Ron was 12), and Ron says we are in good hands with her and LU will continue to be a force for positive change in the markets that we all serve. Ron can be reached at <Ronmaas99@gmail.com>, or at his home phone 203-373-9597. If you are on LinkedIn, send Ron a connection, and say something nice. He is way too young to retire!

Just back from a fabulous trip! We had the 13th Fiesole Collection Development Retreat in St. Petersburg, Russia. St. Petersburg is an incredibly historic city. We arrived by train from Helsinki, Finland, to the Finland Station where Lenin arrived in a sealed train to begin the Russian Revolution. We were greeted at the train station by Fred Lynden (once head of technical services and scholarly communication at Brown and frequent attendee at the Charleston Conference) and his lovely and vivacious wife Irina, who is Deputy Director General of the National Library of Russia. A cruise on the Neva River gave us a look at many famous landmarks and elegant palaces, and I had to pinch myself when we attended a Russian ballet (Ondine) at the Marlinsky Theater. Fred looks great! He could be a poster child for retirement. And so does Irina who could be a poster child for working! Hmmm ...Oh! Almost forgot! The Retreat! There were many excellent papers given by a host of international librarians, publishers, and vendors. The current Charleston Report has some of my favorite quotes from the Retreat (see www.charlestonco.com/) but you need a subscription to look at them. Will see what I can do about that! The Casalini Website has many of the papers loaded there for your perusal. Next year's Retreat is planned for Fiesole, Italy April 12-14, 2012.

Dear Editor:

I'm writing to correct an error in Mark Y. Herring's piece, "Can Open Access Save Us?" from the Dec. 2010-Jan. 2011 issue. Herring makes the point in passing that "by definition, open-access archives and/or journals do not provide scholarly vetting (peer review)...."

This is not at all what open access is, by definition or in practice. Herring quotes Peter Suber, but he should have dug deeper. As Suber writes, "OA is compatible with peer review, and all the major OA initiatives for scientific and scholarly literature insist on its importance." There are now hundreds (thousands?) of peer-reviewed OA journals. As one example, librarian and scholar Heather Morrison found that PLoS One, an OA journal from the Public Library of Science, published more peer-reviewed articles than any other scholarly journal in 2010.
