AIP Digital Archives

Own the Past—Create the Future

AIP has created three information-packed online archives, each of which for a one-time payment gives you permanent access to a broad range of AIP content dating back to our first journal issues in 1930. Together, these backfiles will provide your patrons with more than 300,000 papers from AIP journals and conference proceedings, and more than 55 years of fascinating features from AIP's flagship magazine, Physics Today.

AIP Digital Archive Supplement

To complement the AIP Digital Archive, we've now created the

AIP Digital Archive Supplement.

When added to the AIP Digital Archive, the Supplement will complete your collection of AIP backfile content. The Supplement offers permanent access to more than 50,000 additional articles from:

- AIP Conference Proceedings (1970 – 2004)
- Journal of Physical and Chemical Reference Data (1972 – 1998)
- Low Temperature Physics (1997 – 1998)

Physics Today Digital Archive

Physics Today has covered world-changing events from the discovery of the transistor to the prospects for renewable energy in 21st century. Now AIP has created the Physics Today Digital Archive, containing seminal articles and probing features going back to the first issue in 1948. The new archive gives you access to all content older than five years, and each year we will add another year of content—at no charge to current Physics Today subscribers.

AIP Digital Archive

The AIP Digital Archive provides permanent access to the complete backfiles—more than 250,000 articles—of AIP's eight wholly owned journals for the years 1930 to 1998. The archive contains groundbreaking research going back to Vol. 1, No. 1 for:

- Applied Physics Letters (1962 – 1998)
- Chaos (1991-1998)
- Journal of Applied Physics (1931 – 1998)
- The Journal of Chemical Physics (1933 – 1998)
- Journal of Mathematical Physics (1960 – 1998)
- Physics of Fluids (1958 – 1998)
- Physics of Plasmas (1958 – 1998)
- Review of Scientific Instruments (1930 – 1998)

Introducing the Latest Release in the
Advances in Library Information Science Book Series:

Partnerships and Collaborations in Public Library Communities: Resources and Solutions

Karen Ellis (Taylor Public Library, USA)

While economic hardships are driving patrons to public libraries, they are also causing reduced funding for the maintenance and development of library services. How, then, do public libraries continue to provide basic services with less funding and enhanced services with no funding? The answer is through partnerships and collaborations. The case studies presented in this book provide practical examples of public libraries collaborating and partnering with other local organizations in order to best serve their users' needs. It is a great value to public library professionals and agencies that serve public libraries, as well as school and academic library professionals, as it offers creative, yet viable, solutions for offering new materials, services, and programming during a time of major funding constraints.

OECD Welcomes Second Class of Student Ambassadors

The Organization for Economic Cooperation and Development (OECD) congratulates the 2011-2012 class of Student Ambassadors. The student ambassadors were selected by a competitive application process and represent colleges and universities from across the United States and Canada where students and faculty use OECD data and analytical publications in their teaching and research. During their one-year ambassadorships the students will develop and organize on-campus programs and events featuring the work of the OECD. Based on their performance, two finalists will be selected to attend the OECD Forum in Paris in May 2012.

ENCYCLOPEDIA OF THERMAL PACKAGING:

Set 1: Thermal Packaging Techniques (Volumes 1-5)

edited by Avram Bar-Cohen (University of Maryland, USA)

Packaging, the physical design and implementation of electronic systems is responsible for much of the progress in miniaturization, reliability and functional density achieved by the full range of electronic, microelectronic and nanoelectronic products during the past several decades. The Encyclopedia of Thermal Packaging, compiled into four 5-volume sets (Thermal Packaging Techniques, Thermal Packaging Configurations, Thermal Packaging Tools and Thermal Packaging Applications), will provide comprehensive, one-stop treatment of the techniques, configurations, tools and applications of electronic thermal packaging. Each volume in a set comprises 250-350 pages and is written by world experts in thermal management of electronics.

Contents: Air-Cooled Heat Sinks; Thermal Interface Materials; Liquid-Cooled Cold-Plates; Thermoelectric Micro-Coolers and Generators; Microchannel Coolers; Dielectric Liquid Cooling.

Readership: Undergraduate and graduate students studying mechanical, electrical and electronic engineering; professionals such as packaging engineers, electronic product development engineers, product managers and thermal management researchers.

“Vivid testimony to the continuing broad interest and deep impact of the chemistry of these Pigments of Life.”

Jean-Marie Lehn Nobel Laureate, Chemistry, College de France, France

“Everyone interested in the biological and chemical properties of porphyrins and related macrocycles will want to own the Handbook. The editors have done a terrific job in linking together the volumes in this very valuable resource for investigators in the chemical and biological sciences.”

Harry B Gray Wolf Laureate, Chemistry, California Institute of Technology, USA

This Handbook will prove to be a modern authoritative treatise on the subject as it is a collection of up-to-date works by world-renowned experts in the field. Complete with hundreds of figures, tables and structural formulas, and thousands of literature citations, all researchers and graduate students in this field will find the Handbook of Porphyrin Science an essential, major reference source for many years to come.

HANDBOOK OF INSTRUMENTATION AND TECHNIQUES FOR SEMICONDUCTOR NANOSTRUCTURE CHARACTERIZATION (In 2 Volumes)

edited by Richard Haight, Frances M Ross & James B Hannon

(IBM TJ Watson Research Center, USA),

With Foreword by Leonard C Feldman

(Director Institute for Advanced Materials, Devices and Nanotechnology, Rutgers University, USA)

Highlights

- First comprehensive handbook on instrumentation and techniques for semiconductor nanostructure characterization
- More than 900 references providing up-to-date information
- With over 260 illustrations
- Authors are prominent researchers in the field of nanoscience
- Captures the most up-to-date and recent advances in the fields of nanoscience and nanotechnology
- Thorough coverage of key techniques and instrumentation with numerous visually striking pictures
- Provides the opportunity for WSP to host videos and supplemental multimedia resources on its website which will set this handbook apart from older works

Meet Us In Charleston at Booth 63!

We're Momentum Press and We're Announcing Our First Digital Library of 31 Engineering Ebooks in Science, Engineering, and Applied Technology.

Our books take the interdisciplinary approach — books that travel well between many subject areas such as electronics, materials, civil, and mechanical engineering.

Our Digital Library Provides Students and Librarians With...

- Unlimited simultaneous use
- Downloadable PDFs from the ebrary platform
- Unrestricted access (no DRM, plug-ins or passwords)
- MARC records available
- DOIs of all highly-referenced new titles
- Archived on CLOCKSS
- Available via SERU -- no licenses to negotiate

The 2011 Digital Library with 31 books is priced at just $4,600. If you set up a free trial while at Charleston and purchase by December 1st, you get 10% off!

EconLit Now Has Economics Articles Published since 1886!

www.aeaweb.org/econlit

With more to come!

The American Economic Association (AEA) has created EconLit records for journal articles indexed in Volumes 1–10 of the AEA's Index of Economic Articles. Many of these journals are now available in full text and may be linked to from EconLit if they are part of a library's holdings.

The EconLit records include complete bibliographic citations, subject descriptors and subject codes from the AEA's 1961–1968 classification system, geographic and regional descriptors, and named historical persons.

Later in 2011, EconLit will add records for articles from 1886–1968 collective works (edited volumes, conference proceedings, etc.). We will also match abstracts from the Journal of Economic Abstracts (1963–1968) and from the Journal of Economic Literature (1969–1986) to journal records.

The older records will become part of EconLit subscriptions at no extra cost.

Continuations and Standing Orders

Preface

Continuations and standing orders represent a frustrating and time-consuming area of book acquisitions. Efficient management of continuations requires a staff knowledgeable in all aspects of standing order procedures, with prompt and accurate service being essential.

Midwest Library Service has been providing continuation and standing order programs to libraries for over three decades with the same commitment to high quality as our firm order service: prompt delivery, accurate invoicing, immediate reporting, convenient communications, and personal Library Service Representatives. Our reputation for excellence is well established and we invite you to place your continuations list with us.

Scope

Our Continuation & Standing Order Service encompasses most series and continuations from U.S. publishers. Our services do not include supplying magazines, journals, or loose-leaf updating services.

Procedure

Our Continuation & Standing Order Service incorporates both automated systems and personal surveillance. Instead of relying on the filing and ordering systems of the publishers, we place orders for specific volumes as books are due to be published. If the next item in a series is not received when scheduled, we initiate a new order for the same item. This procedure helps avoid potentially missed volumes and eliminates any dependence upon the publishers' fulfillment systems. If in-house information is not available on future volumes to be published, we call the publisher for future projections and publication schedules. This information is then used to update our new title records.

Advantages

1. Because of our method of ordering specific volumes, we are in regular communication with the publishers.
2. Our status reports are prompt and accurate and should eliminate library claims.
3. Specific claims from an individual library resulting in an updated status report will generate new status reports to all libraries ordering the same series.
4. We do not drop ship.

Quality service depends on good communications between the library and the jobber. Your personal Library Service Representative and our convenient communications provide easy access to us regarding your continuation orders. We invite you to try our service by sending us your next list of standing order titles.
