Another impressive aspect of The World Bank eLibrary is the information it provides on each record list and page, which is where the real content is anyway. The record lists provide the main citation information needed with an option to view the abstract without navigating away from the list, and each record page provides complete citation information in a clean and organized manner, making it easy to identify. In addition, each record page gives you the option to email the record, download the citation, get citation alerts, and add the record to a favorites folder.

Any library, public or academic, with patrons who have a need to research the most current news, economics, and business trends from around the world would greatly benefit from The World Bank eLibrary. And The World Bank eLibrary makes incorporation very easy. It can be integrated with almost any library system, it can be indexed in discovery services, institutional branding is available, usage statistics are made readily available, and their MARC records and metadata are easily downloadable. These are only a few of the benefits and services which make The World Bank eLibrary library-friendly.
