Don't Be Bob

The decisions you make today will affect your online publishing strategy for years to come. Especially those regarding your choice of archival format. A word to the wise: Invest in SGML.

SGML lends itself to immediate solutions with robust results. Like the COS Online Journal Publishing System. It takes the SGML file created from the print journal content, stores it in a relational database, and creates full-text online journals on the fly, complete with graphics and dynamically generated hyperlinks. So you get your journal on the Web quickly and cost-effectively. And your readers gain tremendous advantages in functionality.

Don't be lured by simplistic "solutions." For long-term online journal publishing that works, call Community of Science. And if you see Bob, tell him to give us a call, too.
EBSCO's increased integration efforts will soon provide the simplicity you've been seeking in information management.

Your library users will be able to simultaneously search electronic journals and multiple online databases. They will easily link to the full text of articles. They will be notified instantly when your library's local print collection contains the desired issue. And they will automatically have the option to order individual documents when the full text isn't available elsewhere.

All with the click of a few buttons at the desktop. And all without entering and exiting several systems.

Quick, seamless, efficient access to Web-based information. With EBSCO, it's rapidly becoming a reality.

Helping you simplify your research environment.

WHY DO MORE LIBRARIES CHOOSE BOOKS IN PRINT?

RECENTLY, an independent research firm conducting a national survey told us that more libraries use the BOOKS IN PRINT family than any other source of book information. When we asked why, we discovered that your answers fell into two categories:

"BOOKS IN PRINT helps me serve patrons better."

Often, patrons ask librarians about a book they don't know much about. With BOOKS IN PRINT on DISC, you can locate virtually any title...even if your patron knows only a word from the title, the subject, the illustrator, or another tiny fragment of information.

When a patron comes to you with the question "Are there any books on...?" you can easily answer the question using BOOKS IN PRINT ON DISC's fast and powerful search capabilities. You can even easily print out a customized bibliography in a few minutes.

Plus, when a patron asks you what a book is about, you can refer to BOOKS IN PRINT's 170,000+ descriptive annotations or the 300,000 full-text reviews in BOOKS IN PRINT with BOOK REVIEWS ON DISC.

"BOOKS IN PRINT makes my job easier."

BOOKS IN PRINT ON DISC helps you speed through verification processes since it gives you quick access to ISBNs, exact titles, prices, authors, contributor information, distributor and publisher addresses and phone numbers, return policies, and much more.

You can also automatically print POs, cataloging records and electronic orders without retyping. Plus, BOOKS IN PRINT ON DISC simplifies your record-keeping by letting you download information directly into your word processing programs.

In addition, you can save ordering data in a format 25 vendors will accept...not just Baker & Taylor. And forthcoming titles are flagged to help you locate the new titles that are right for your collection!

Order Now! 30-Day Money-Back Guarantee!

You can't understand the true value of BOOKS IN PRINT till you use it yourself. That's why we're making BOOKS IN PRINT ON DISC and BOOKS IN PRINT with BOOK REVIEWS ON DISC available with a 30-day money-back guarantee!

Reference Linking Takes You Places Most Journals Can’t Go

Now there’s a powerful new feature that lets your patrons reach beyond the pages of a single journal—even beyond the pages of all AIP journals. It’s called reference linking.

With reference linking, your patrons can follow a trail of research as never before. They can just click on an article citation and link to the referenced article’s abstract in databases such as INSPEC and SPIN. There are also links to other valuable resources, such as the preprint server at Los Alamos National Laboratory (LANL), where bibliographic records and the full text of every cited preprint are available.

Citations also link to the full text of articles in other AIP online journals to which you subscribe. Links to abstracts as well as full text articles are available for most AIP journals beginning with January 1998 issues. JETP Letters, offers links to issues starting in January 1997, and for Applied Physics Letters links are in place back to January 1995.

If your patrons haven’t tried reference linking, please remind them of it the next time they use an AIP online journal. It’s a true milestone in the evolution of research journals. To find out about other valuable new features and services including Articles In Physics—which offers online purchase and delivery of single articles to anyone on the Internet—visit our Web site at www.aip.org/ojs/ojsann.html.

For more information on AIP journals and online services, call us toll-free at 1-800-344-6902 or 516-576-2270.

You can also e-mail us at subs@aip.org.

ACS Web Editions provide the latest advances in chemistry and the chemical-related sciences on a daily basis, setting new standards for scientific publishing.

Articles ASAP® (As Soon As Publishable) posts each peer-reviewed, fully edited and approved article to the Web as soon as it is ready for publication.

Flexible subscription arrangements allow libraries to receive Web Editions with or without a print subscription. Special organization-wide license rates for Web Editions are available to institutions that maintain all their print subscriptions.
