David spent winter term in New Mexico cataloging Anasazi potsherds.

To research the culture that made them, he turned to his college library.

They had several new titles. He checked one out as an eBook.
The usefulness of the collections that reside within a library grows exponentially the easier it is for students or faculty to access those collections. netLibrary eBook collections are available to your library users anywhere they can get online—from a dorm room, a remote campus, or even a thousand miles away. And, since eBook MARC records integrate with your OPAC, users find them easily. Discover more at www.academic.netLibrary.com or 800-413-4557.

booksinprint.com™

With over 4 million records and 130 years of literary expertise, Bowker has a depth and breadth of coverage that's unrivaled in the book industry. A tradition of excellence stands behind us, as we continue to forge ahead into new areas with our powerful database, booksinprint.com.

We feature both Children's and Forthcoming Book Rooms. We offer a never-before-available browseable and searchable PAD database that alone lists over 165,000 publishers, imprints, distributors and wholesalers. Z39.50 compliant Bowker to Holdings allows librarians and patrons to search and download information into a variety of automation systems without worry; proprietary information can be password protected.

Now, we're adding textbook sources and Tables of Contents for thousands of books. Down the road, look for Comparison Shopping—a feature that will tell you where you can buy any book for the lowest price available. Coming later—e-booksinprint.com—a free site that will feature over 175,000 books on demand and e-book titles.

We're leading the industry with continual updates, constant enhancements, and a commitment to uncompromising excellence.

Give us a try and get the results you need!

Every month, we receive thousands of books. Billie Jo knows where each one goes.

EMERY-PRATT MAKES SURE YOUR ORDER IS COMPLETE AND THE BOOKS ARE SPECIALLY PREPARED THE WAY YOU'VE REQUESTED.

Over the past 16 years, Billie Jo has worked in almost every department at Emery-Pratt. She currently supervises our receiving department. That's where all the books are sorted and prepared to fill customer orders. It's also where many of our specialty services take place. You see, we help our library customers by preparing their books to be “shelf-ready” before we ship them out. That includes paperback binding and reinforcement, bar coding, cataloging, theft detection devices and more. It's just another way we try to make things a little easier for the libraries we work with.

Ask about our specialty services for your next order. Billie Jo will make sure it happens.

THE NICEST PEOPLE IN THE BOOK BUSINESS
Biochemistry & Molecular Biology of Plants
Buchanan • Gruissem • Jones

In 24 structured chapters (over 1,400 pages and more than 1,100 original drawings plus 500 photographs), Biochemistry & Molecular Biology of Plants provides a boldly contemporary review of its subject, including molecular biology, cell biology, and plant physiology, integrated around the themes of compartmentation, cell reproduction, energetics, metabolism, and development. The CD-ROM of the illustrations increases its utility for teaching.

Published by the American Society of Plant Biologists (formerly the American Society of Plant Physiologists), this major text is the result of years of planning and meticulous development and editing from the top tier of plant biologists working around the world. It is an essential addition to your library and to the available resources for teaching a complex and dynamic subject.

Access Ten Years of AIP Journals Online

AIP has created six additional years of digital archives for all of our core journals, extending our online backfiles to 1991. This project adds nearly 50,000 articles — more than doubling the number previously available online. Institutional customers have the option to subscribe to the expanded archive of each journal for an additional $50. For The Journal of Chemical Physics and Journal of Applied Physics, the additional charge is $75.

AIP & APS Launch Online Journal Statistics Service

AIP and the American Physical Society have launched the Online Journal Statistics Service for library administrators. Librarians at institutions with online access may use the service at their convenience to view usage reports for the AIP and APS online journals to which they subscribe. Reports for each journal include the number of downloads of full-text articles, tables of contents, abstracts, and journal home pages. The reports will also provide the number of individual searches performed.

AIP — committed to preserving a permanent online archive

AIP is dedicated to maintaining an online archive and making it accessible to subscribers. With AIP onsite and off-site archives and year-end user-mountable CD-ROMs, you’re assured permanent access to AIP’s online journal content. You can view AIP’s complete archive policy statement on the web at www.aip.org/journals/archive/.

The first part of the Encyclopedia of Archaeology covered the scholars, scientists, and innovators who have made archaeology such a dynamic and distinctive field. Now, the much anticipated Part II, History and Discoveries, invites you along on the excavations, describes the importance of discoveries, and explains the tools and techniques.

Praise for Part I, The Great Archaeologists:

“For all libraries.”  Library Journal, April 15, 2000

“A useful contribution to the history of archaeology . . .”  CHOICE, May 1, 2000

“…a promising start on this projected set, as well as a reference that will stand on its own . . .”  Against the Grain, February 1, 2000

“…an invaluable addition to collections with an interest in archaeology or anthropology . . .”  Booklist, January 15, 2000
