Building Your Collection On-Line

GROWTH FORMULA

There's no secret to successfully enlarging your collection. Title Source II makes it easy. It is, very simply, the most comprehensive database for verified bibliographic information on over 2.2 million U.S. titles. Available on the Web and updated daily, Title Source II puts big-time knowledge at your fingertips. Key word search over 75,000 tables of contents and 575,000+ annotations.

Explore an ever-expanding selection of review citations from all the major journals, or browse Library of Congress subject headings, LC and Dewey classifications, and General, Academic, and BISAC subject categories. You can even download MARC records for use with your library's system. For more information, visit our Web site at www.btebis.com. Title Source II. It will grow on you.

ENHANCE ACCESS TO PERIODICAL INFORMATION.

A patron asks for a periodical title that is not owned by your library. What can your library do?

Broaden the scope of your collection with an UnCover Customized Gateway, which matches your library's journal holdings with the UnCover database of nearly 18,000 multidisciplinary titles.

It's 2 a.m. and a harried patron needs a journal article for a research project. What can your library offer?

A Gateway provides 24 hour Web access to your journal holdings as well as the UnCover database. If the item is not locally-held, a patron can place a library-subsidized order from UnCover and obtain the article within 24 hours, often much sooner.

An issue of a journal is in demand at your library, but you only have a limited number of physical copies. What can your library do?

With a Customized Gateway, expand the breadth of your collection by providing an easy-to-use online system for patrons to order articles.

UnCover is the premier source for fast, convenient, cost-effective access to periodical information.

We offer a suite of renowned, reliable services including:

• Document Delivery
• Reveal/Current Awareness
• Customized Gateways

UnCover -- the article access solution that delivers.

How can ACS Web Edition subscribers instantly access abstracts of article references from the CAS database?

[CAS] just click this

Now, ACS Web Edition subscribers can immediately link from references in all ACS Web Edition articles to the relevant Chemical Abstracts Service (CAS) record, gaining instant access to the abstract and bibliographic information, regardless of article publisher.

Available exclusively from the American Chemical Society, this new capability greatly enriches and extends the value of the original article, enabling scientists, librarians and academicians to achieve significantly faster and more productive results.

Visit an article from the first edition of Organic Letters today at http://pubs.acs.org/reflink and simply click on the CAS tag in the references to try out this exciting new feature. It's that easy.

ACS Web Edition Subscribers: use the HTML version to avail of this new reference-linking capability—available now for all ACS Web Editions.

Back to School!? Again??

It’s simply a fact. Mergers can have a profound effect on your acquisition department. Many things can change — pricing structures, the people you normally deal with, the ordering process. It can be as confusing as your first day on campus.

Since 1962, the Book House has maintained steady and solid growth by expanding on superior service and a solid foundation.

So, if you don’t want to “start over” or if you don’t have time to “wait and see if you like the new instructor,” call the Book House — where it’s business as usual.

If you think we're just a small company, you should see the size of Kathi's rolodex.

EMERY-PRATT DEALS WITH OVER 70,000 PUBLISHING SOURCES. FORTUNATELY, YOU CAN DEAL WITH JUST ONE.

At Emery-Pratt, Kathi is usually two steps ahead of everyone. She meets with publishers about exciting new books that aren't even available to the public yet. And by the time the public does hear about them, she's already shipping them off to our customers around the country. With so many publishing sources, we are better able to find all the books our library customers want the most. Somehow Kathi always knows what's hot and where to find it. How does she do it? She says it's experience. We think she might just have a sixth sense about it.

The next time you order books, give us a call. We're sure Kathi can get them all for you.

Encyclopedia of Human Nutrition
Edited by
Michele Sadler, Benjamin Caballero, and J.J. Strain

"The Encyclopedia of Human Nutrition is a superb attempt to incorporate into one three-volume set the many elements of the rapidly-expanding science of nutrition.

Appropriately, this [set] has an international editorial board and an international set of authors. The cross-referencing in the table of contents is excellent and helps one find a particular subject easily. Each volume ends with a comprehensive set of tables and charts. The index is excellent and user-friendly in terms of helping the reader find tables, discussions of major topics, and cross references. The format of the index should serve as a template for other comprehensive works. In general, the coverage of most of the topics in nutrition, ranging from molecular biology to agriculture and food science and from social sciences in human behavior to clinical medicine, is excellent. The Encyclopedia of Human Nutrition is a superb attempt to produce a comprehensive work on human nutrition."

Announcing two new references (and two great offers) from John Wiley & Sons

Encyclopedia of Special Education, Second Edition
Edited by Cecil R. Reynolds, PhD, ABPN, ABPP, Texas A&M University, and Elaine Fletcher-Janzen, PhD, Colorado Springs, CO

The First Edition was chosen the “Outstanding Reference Source of the Year” by the American Library Association

In the making for twelve years, this long-awaited revision of the Encyclopedia of Special Education offers a comprehensive compilation of authoritative information on the education of those with special needs.

New in this edition
- Comprehensive coverage of new legislation such as the Individuals with Disabilities Education Act (IDEA) and the Americans with Disabilities Act
- Cultural competence in Special Education—many new entries on culturally/linguistically diverse students
- New entries on rare diseases, service delivery, outcome-based education, traumatic brain injury, assessment methods, international adoption, and neuropsychological sequelae of deprivation

Reviews of the first edition...

“A well-designed and up-to-date source... recommended for public, college, and university libraries serving undergraduates and graduate students in special education.”
—Choice

“Although special education as a field is relatively recent, its body of knowledge is already vast. Reynolds & Munn have done an outstanding job of charting the terrain.”
—American Libraries

Indispensable

WOMEN AND ART
Contested Territory
By Judy Chicago and Edward Lucie-Smith
One far-reaching consequence of art's age-old gender monopoly is that the most famous images of women have been produced by artists with no direct knowledge of the female experience. Have male artists ever succeeded in capturing the feminine essence? Are their attempts invalidated by their sex, or is it possible to transcend gender and look purely with the artist's eye? How do men and women differ in their approaches to similar subjects? In this ground-breaking new book, pioneering feminist artist Judy Chicago joins forces with art historian Edward Lucie-Smith, selecting and analyzing images of women from the whole of art history. Their point-counterpoint dialogue is spirited, wide-ranging, controversial, and full of startling visual illumination.

ART: THE CRITICS' CHOICE
150 Masterpieces of Western Art
Selected and Defined by the Experts
Introduction by John Russell
Edited by Marina Valzey
In a refreshingly different approach to art history, this masterful survey tells the story of art through a cross-section of exemplary works, selected, explained, and explored by world-renowned experts. Each of ten artistic periods begins with a general overview, followed by self-contained essays on 15 works of art. The works are considered in terms of their aesthetic and social importance, how and for whom they were created, and what the subject matter and symbolism reveal about the period, artist, and patron. From ancient, medieval and Renaissance art, through to impressionism, postmodernism, and beyond, the book concludes with tantalizing speculation on where art is headed in the twenty-first century.

Save more than 20% with online journal subscriptions

In 2000, AIP is offering online subscriptions for 20% off the print price! Libraries outside the U.S. will save even more, as there are no shipping costs associated with our online editions. In addition, you may now subscribe to any of the 14 AIP-distributed Russian translation journals online. Electronic access has never before been available for many of these journals, and now you can receive an online subscription for about 1/3 off the price of print.

Stretch your budget — save up to 50% with combination subscriptions

To help you address the increasing pressures on serials budgets, AIP now offers an expanded variety of combination subscriptions— including online combinations. By ordering a combination package, you may find — as have many libraries — that you can reduce you subscription costs while adding titles to your collection. AIP offers 13 different packages, with savings that range from $51 to $27,226.

Save with standing order plans on AIP Conference Proceedings

AIP Conference Proceedings record the latest breakthroughs presented at scientific meetings, workshops, and symposia worldwide, and provide access to new discoveries well before traditional journals. Standing order customers receive each new Proceedings promptly upon publication, ensuring even faster access for their patrons. Now, four standing order plans are available for libraries with more specialized collections. They give your patrons an advance look at research in these important disciplines:

- Accelerators, Beams, and Instrumentation
- Astronomy and Astrophysics
- High Energy Physics
- Plasma Physics

For comments, questions, or inquiries on any AIP product, call us at 516-576-2411 or e-mail mktg@aip.org.

SIAM JOURNALS
ONLINE

- Accelerated electronic publication has begun. Electronic articles in SIAM’s nine research journals are published in final form months, and in some cases years, in advance of their print counterpart.

- The electronic editions are the definitive editions. The Institute for Scientific Information, Mathematical Reviews, and INSPEC use the accelerated electronic versions as the versions of record for their coverage of SIAM journals.

- MathSciNet and Web of Science contain links to SIAM’s electronically published articles. And watch for upcoming links from Zentralblatt für Mathematik, SilverPlatter, and Information Express. If your institution subscribes to both SIAM electronic journals and MathSciNet or Web of Science, your users have seamless access from the third-party database to SIAM’s full text.

- Users can print and download articles for personal or educational use.

- Printouts of the accelerated electronic articles can be used for interlibrary loan.

- Your subscription allows access to the complete electronic backfile for the titles you receive, starting with the 1997 volumes.

TO GET ONLINE WITH SIAM you need only complete our Online Journal Subscription Agreement (OJSA). You can get an OJSA from your subscription agent or from SIAM’s web site at www.siam.org/eaccess/ojsa.htm, or contact Customer Service at service@siam.org.

Subscribe now so your users can begin reading and referencing this growing repository of peer-reviewed mathematical research—months to years ahead of print-only users.

IN-DEPTH REVIEW ARTICLES – extended literature reviews in each issue authored by leading researchers, refereed by AMR's prestigious Board of Associate Editors.

RETROSPECTIVES – a look back at select areas of engineering by senior leaders who provide historical background and interesting insight about their areas of expertise.

BOOK REVIEWS – experts critically evaluate about a dozen books in each issue and summarize the contents of many others.

ABSTRACTS – 1,600 subject-classified abstracts from some 475 international journals in every issue. Selected by technical editors actively involved in research, all abstracts are classified in accordance with a comprehensive scheme with extensive cross-indexing.

JOURNAL ABSTRACTS ONLINE – a bibliographic database of over 130,000 abstracts compiled by AMR since 1989. Updated monthly, they are searchable by title, author, source journal, classification, author affiliation, keyword, and more.

NEW RESEARCH COLLECTIONS

The Oscar Wilde Collection
Poet, Critic, Playwright, Novelist.
Sensation.
Wilde the man and Wilde the artist can be studied together as never before. Produced in association with the Wilde literary estate, under the direction of Merlin Holland, Wilde's grandson, the collection is based upon the holdings of the University of California, Los Angeles' William Andrews Clark Memorial Library and contains:
- Literary manuscripts and typescripts of poems and plays including unpublished poems, personal and lecture notes and drafts of works, including The Portrait of Dorian Gray.
- First and rare editions of Wilde's work in English including The Ballad of Reading Gaol, De Profundis and many others.
- Autograph correspondence of Wilde and the Wilde family including his wife Constance, his mother Jane and his sister-in-law Lily.

Testaments to the Holocaust
From The Wiener Library, London
Editor: Ben Barkow, The Wiener Library
The Wiener Library is the world's oldest institution for the study of Nazi Germany, the fate of German Jewry, the Holocaust and its aftermath. The Testaments to the Holocaust is fascinating in presenting not only a retrospective view of events, but also the full range of contemporary readings and interpretations from around the world - a resource impossible to assemble today.

Series One
Archives of the Wiener Library
- More than 1,200 previously unpublished eyewitness accounts.
- Approximately 4,000 photographs
- Rare propaganda materials, limited circulation publications and printed serials.

Series Two
Thematic Press Cuttings Collection 1933-1945
From its earliest days, The Wiener Library gave high priority to the systematic collection of press materials relating to the NSDAP and its policies, especially those affecting Jewish life. Titles include:
- Westdeutscher Beobachter
- National Zeitung
- NY Times
- Neue Zürcher Zeitung
- Hakenkreuzbanner
- The Times
- Le Temps

Project MUSE® now includes scholarly journals from ten university presses! Building on the original 47 scholarly titles offered by Johns Hopkins, the MUSE collection now offers 112 full-text journals online. By merging these titles into a single database, MUSE provides scholars with the critical content they need, combined with all of the benefits of electronic subscriptions, including full-text and field searching, easy navigation, and full campus availability 24 hours a day. With our expanded list, faster servers and increased searching options, your users will find research has never been easier. And as a librarian, there’s no better value for your dollar—the list price of $8,000 is much less than the cost of subscribing to these titles in print. Our flexible subscription options include discipline-oriented packages and single-title ordering to best meet your collection development needs. Substantial discounts are also offered for consortium, smaller and special libraries. Contact us now to see why there’s more to MUSE than ever before.

Now MUSE includes journals from:

Carnegie Mellon University Press
Duke University Press
University of Hawai’i Press
Indiana University Press
Johns Hopkins University Press
MIT Press

Links Between MathSciNet Reviews and Original Articles

MathSciNet continues to expand its linking to original articles in online journals. There are now links to nearly 75,000 original articles, including from:

NEW! • Electronic Journal of Combinatorics

Other links include original articles and abstracts from:
- New York Journal of Mathematics
- Pacific Journal of Mathematics
- Oxford University press, 13 journals
- Academic Press, 26 journals
- Society for Industrial and Applied Mathematics (SIAM), 10 journals
- American Mathematical Society (AMS), 8 journals

Subscribers to both MathSciNet and AMS Electronic Journals can link from reviews to original articles and from AMS electronic journal references to MathSciNet reviews.

Links go directly to the journal's Web site. Access to the full text of an article may be dependent on your having a subscription to the journal. In some cases, the abstract for the article is available without a subscription.

30-day free trial available for institutions and corporations. For more information, contact the American Mathematical Society, Membership and Customer Services Department at: 1-800-321-4267 or 1-401-455-4000, worldwide; fax 1-401-455-4046; e-mail cust-serv@ams.org.
