2003 Charleston Conference — 23rd Annual Issues in Book and Serial Acquisition Conference

Call For Papers, Ideas, Conference Themes, Panels, Debates, Diatribes, Speakers, Preconferences, etc. ...

The 23rd Annual Charleston Conference Theme is “Games People Play”
Wednesday, November 5, 2003 — Preconferences
Thursday-Saturday, November 6-8, 2003 — Main Conference
College of Charleston, Lightsey Ctr., 160 Calhoun St., Charleston, SC 29424

If you are interested in leading a discussion, acting as a moderator, coordinating the lively lunches or simulation rooms, or would like to make sure we discuss a particular topic, please let us know. The Charleston Conference prides itself on creativity, innovation, flexibility, and informality. If there is something you are interested in discussing, please try it out on us. We’ll probably love it...

The Conference Directors for the 2003 Charleston Conference include — Rosann Bazirjan, Chair (Penn State University) <rbv9@psulias.psu.edu>, Deana Astle (East Carolina University) <astled@mail.ecu.edu>, Barbara Dean (Arlington County Public Library), Stuart Grinell (Ambassador Books and Media) <bookman@jquest.net>, Ramune Kubilius (Northwestern Health Sciences Library) <rkubilius@uwu.edu>, Heather Miller (SUNY-Albany) <hmiller@uamail.albany.edu>, Jack Montgomery (Western Kentucky University) <jack.montgomery@wku.edu>, Vicky Speck (ABC-Clio) <vspeck@abc-clio.com>, Katina Strauch (College of Charleston) <strauchk@earthlink.net> or www.katina.info/conference.

Some tentative topics to be discussed this year are: “Alternative Models of Scholarly Communication: Publishing Alternatives,” “Fair Use in the Electronic Environment: Odyssey or Oxymoron?,” “Improving Communication Between Publishers and Librarians,” “License Agreements: Ten Years Later,” “Problems With the Persistence of the Electronic Article,” “The Library As Place: From the Inside Looking Out and From the Outside Looking In,” “To Boldly Go Where No Librarian Has Gone Before,” and “Update On Project COUNTER.”

Send ideas by June 30, 2003, to any of the Conference Directors listed above.
