Perspectives on Prohibition weren’t just black and white. They came in every shade.

The more newsprint you see, the more the colors shine through. With eight major titles to choose from, the ProQuest Historical Newspapers™ Program provides a vivid mosaic of the past 150 years – from the Civil War to Prohibition to Vietnam and beyond. You can get the national perspective of The New York Times, The Wall Street Journal, The Washington Post, and The Christian Science Monitor, together with perspectives from throughout the nation in The Chicago Tribune, The Los Angeles Times, The Boston Globe, and The Atlanta Constitution. And coming this Fall, we’re unveiling one of the most important African-American newspapers in U.S. history: The Chicago Defender. ProQuest Historical Newspapers – it’s the past from every angle.
Because negotiating with 32 different publishers is NOT why you got an MLS.

HISTORICAL ABSTRACTS AND AMERICA: HISTORY AND LIFE
ADVANCING THE ART AND SCIENCE OF HISTORY REFERENCE

In celebration of our 50th anniversary, we are embarking on a multiyear program to upgrade and enhance Historical Abstracts and America: History and Life. With a new interface, over 1.2 million entries, and 322,000 full-text links, these landmark resources are more than ever the first place to begin any search in the area of history.

HIGHLIGHTS:
- New this fall ... a redesigned interface with enhanced search and display options
- OpenURL compliant with full-text links to over 322,000 articles and book reviews from partners such as JSTOR, ProjectMUSE, and others
- New retrospective coverage of thousands of full-text articles from JSTOR journals dating back to the late 19th century
- New ... links to masters’ theses and doctoral dissertations in ProQuest’s Dissertations & Theses Database
- New setup functionality for non-OpenURL resolvers, permitting linking to non-OpenURL catalogs
- Monthly updates with over 38,000 new entries added each year, including citations to book reviews, media reviews, and dissertations and abstracts in English of articles published in over 40 languages in some 1,700 journals
- Online IColC-compliant usage statistics
- Highly responsive technical and editorial support

Used as stand-alone databases or as search engines for your periodical collection, Historical Abstracts and America: History and Life form the cornerstone of any history collection. Call 1-800-368-6868 today for a free 30-day trial. Or sign up on the web at www.abc-clio.com/academic.

Fifty years ago, Eric and Inge Boehm, founders of ABC-CLIO, attended the Congress of the International Committee of Historical Sciences in Rome to present Historical Abstracts for the first time. Now used over five million times a year, this landmark publication has become the premier online indexing and abstracting source for history.

Locus contains the electronic full text for every SIAM journal article published from the journal's inception through 1996.

Locus articles are available as fully searchable PDFs; full metadata is available for each article. Articles published between 1980 and 1996 contain reference links to Mathematical Reviews, Zentralblatt für Mathematik, and to the cited article via CrossRef (when available). Reference links back through the 1952 content will be added in the future.

Locus is not a subscription for institutions. The archive is a one-time purchase, with a small ($100 annually) maintenance fee per Locus order (not per journal).

Get the complete SIAM online journal archive. Order Locus today.

Pairing Locus with a subscription to SIAM Journals Online (articles 1997–present) provides your users with immediate, uninterrupted access to all SIAM journal content from the first SIAM article published in 1952 to today's publications, with current articles going online as soon as they are available. That's over 50 years of the best in applied mathematics and computational science! SIAM Academic Members receive significant discounts on Locus and on packages of SIAM's esteemed journals (www.siam.org/membership/academic/academic_members.php).

Physiology (formerly News in Physiological Sciences) publishes invited review articles written by leaders in their fields. These articles are peer-reviewed and highlight major advances in the broadly defined field of physiology. The journal also publishes shorter articles that either highlight important emerging topics and technologies or explore differing points of view. Finally, the journal identifies and briefly summarizes some of the most exciting new papers in physiology. With a new format that is both exciting and attractive, the journal is a valuable tool for researchers, educators, and students. Physiology is published jointly by the International Union of Physiological Sciences and The American Physiological Society. It is indexed by Medline and PubMed.

- Highlights from the Literature: a summary of approximately 12-15 current papers nominated by editors around the world

- Emerging Tools and Technologies: discussions of new methodologies of interest

- Emerging Topics: brief discussions of new concepts in physiology

- Point/Counterpoint: collegial discussions of opposing viewpoints

- Timelines: brief historical articles describing how a particular field developed to where it is today, sometimes linked to current reviews in Physiology
Age is just a number. Unless you're an online journal collection.

It's a simple fact: experience counts. ACS Legacy Archives
An Essential Record of the Chemical and Related Sciences
1879 to 1995

23 journals. 971 volumes. 11,117 issues. 464,233 articles.

New ACS Web subscription policies, effective 2006, redefine a current Web Edition subscription as access to articles published from 1996 onwards. New One-Time Payment Option
The ACS now features a one-time payment option to access ACS Legacy Archives beginning with 2006 subscriptions. This one-time payment option secures ongoing access rights to the Archives content. Customers who choose the one-time payment option access the Archives from ACS servers and are charged a nominal annual maintenance fee. For those taking advantage of the one-time payment option in 2006, the annual maintenance fee will be waived.

More than just chemistry...
ACS Legacy Archives covers a legacy of scientific advances from biochemistry to bioconjugate chemistry and toxicology, inorganic chemistry to organometallics, energy and fuels to environmental science and technology, and medicinal chemistry to natural products. It is an essential record of the chemical and related sciences, from 1879 to 1995.

Special Issue of Journal of Biomechanical Engineering on Medical Devices.

Journal of Biomechanical Engineering*

The global medical device market was reported to be a $169 billion industry in 2002, with the U.S. market alone valued at about $77 billion. This industry has increased 10-fold in the past decade and has been growing at a rate of 9–10% per year in the past four years. It is expected to grow even more rapidly in the next decade. The medical device industry employs over 380,000 individuals in the U.S. (2001) and created a $3.3 billion U.S. trade surplus in 2002. Mechanical engineers play a critical role in the conceptualizing, prototyping, testing and manufacturing of these devices. Thus, the objective of this special issue on medical devices is to provide a place to publish results of applied research that reveal solutions to difficult problems faced when moving basic biomedical science/engineering to the bedside. This special issue was associated with the 2005 Design of Medical Devices (DMD) Conference that served as a neutral site where those involved with medical device development came to share emerging technical and clinical issues directed at improving healthcare around the world.

For over forty years, Midwest Library Service has been quietly relieving librarians of the problems often associated with book and standing order purchasing.

Our Continuation & Standing Order Service is based on intensive, personal contact with thousands of publishers to ensure prompt and complete fulfillment on series, sets, annuals, yearbooks, and proceedings. It is our goal to take the guesswork and anxiety out of continuations and standing order fulfillment through timely shipments and thorough reporting.

Using sophisticated tracking programs, Midwest monitors pre-publication information and shipping schedules instead of relying on publisher-based systems. We will customize the fulfillment frequencies on annuals and yearbooks on a title-by-title basis. In the case of a delayed or missing edition, we contact the publisher by telephone to ensure fulfillment. Of course, you have access to historical fill data whenever needed. And to make matters even easier for you, we will assist in the seamless transfer of standing orders placed previously with publishers or other booksellers.

In an unstable time of publisher upheavals and understaffed, harried libraries, isn't it good to have a vendor you can count on?

If you are not completely satisfied with your current vendor, look to Midwest for all your book buying needs.

For more information, contact a Standing Order specialist at 800-325-8833 or standingorders@midwestls.com.
