OCLC is piloting a new service that will allow libraries to combine the cooperative power of OCLC member libraries worldwide with the ability to customize WorldCat.org as a solution for local discovery and delivery services. The WorldCat Local pilot builds on WorldCat.org, which allows Web access to the OCLC database for discovery of materials held in libraries. The WorldCat Local pilot will test new functionality that allows users to place requests, gain online access, or request an interlibrary loan within WorldCat.org. Libraries and groups participating in the WorldCat Local pilot include: University of Washington; Peninsula Library System in California; Libraries in Illinois, including: University of Illinois/Urbana-Champaign, Glenside Public Library District, CCS (Cooperative Computer Services) Consortium, Lincoln Library, Illinois State Museum, Illinois State Library, Hoopeston Public Library, Northeastern Illinois University, Wisconsin's Center for the Book, Hennepin County Library, Mecklenburg County Library, and the Library of the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill.
